

On This Side Of The Sun

By Phat

After battling 100 per cent throughout the war—and getting a lot of extra base hits, besides—it looks as if Palm Springs was going to strike out at its last chance at bat. Both the War Chest and the Victory Loan drive are lagging. It would be too bad to have the Village mar its perfect record of never having failed in a campaign, in its last chance.

THE VILLAGE—Anyway, there's one man here who has his wife well trained. At Thad Graham's shoe emporium the other noon, a woman was discoursing in detail about her troubles. Just then the bull horn atop the fire station sounded its customary two blasts, indicating noon. "My goodness," said the woman, "I've got to run. That's my husband honking for me!" Efficiency is the motto of the police department. Two minutes after a citizen called Ione Coble at the police desk to report that glass on the highway was a menace to tires, Bob Hanum was on the job with a push broom cleaning it off.

MUSIC—One of the most disheartening things an entertainer has to face is to have cafe patrons rattling silverware and clinking chinaware, while he or she sings or plays. But that's one thing Connie Barleau doesn't have to worry about. When she sings at the Dunes, the house is so quiet, you could hear the proverbial pin drop. . . . Of the first seven tunes on the Hit Parade last week, all were picks of Mrs. G. Bob Hull or myself. Sort of hit the jackpot. . . . Only blot on the record was that my current favorite, "Waiting for the Train to Come In" wasn't even mentioned. . . . Reminds me, Mrs. G. took off for the east Tuesday. My record of that song will probably be worn out before she gets back.

THIS AND THAT—Speaking of music, read in Time two weeks ago that Guy Lombardo has made more than 500 records. That makes me feel bad. It means there are 417 of them I haven't got. . . . Christmas isn't far off. Last week-end heard Bing Crosby's record of "White Christmas" over the air seven times. . . . The season is really on. At the city jail Wednesday it looked like Old Home Week. Seven men and two women were being booked. . . . In the current issue of the Desert Magazine, Harry Oliver, my 1000 Palms agent, gets a big write-up and two pictures showing him looking over Pushawalla Canyon. . . . It's said that Randall Henderson, publisher of that fine magazine is planning to set up a shop in Palm Village.

ODDS AND ENDS—Arthur Greenfield, local realty man, found a book at the library the other day entitled, "Tales of a Wayward Inn," by Frank Case, formerly of the Algonquin hotel of New York. Written in 1914, it describes Palm Springs as "a little known pleasant desert spot with one good hotel, the Desert Inn, and the temperature around 120 degrees each day." . . . Last week Villagers and visitors put $214.20 on the line to buy Desert Suns from the newsstands. That represents 2142 copies. Although it was only the middle of November, that figure exceeded the peak of last season by 41 papers. (That doesn't take into account the vast number of papers going to regular subscribers by mail.) This certainly looks like a big season. . . . By the way, for that sale, I thank you. (And The Sun thanks you, too.)

THE MAIL—"Why can't we have sidewalks on Indian avenue?" queries a Villager. "The traffic is terrific and it's a constant wonder to me that some pedestrian isn't bumped there." . . . "Where could I borrow a big truck?" asks another. "I'd like to drive one right down the middle of Palm Canyon Drive and smack some of these discourteous drivers. Had to wait 10 minutes the other day before a driver saw the 'Pedestrian Stop' sign and let me cross." "Have decided to call you 'Golden Bantam' from now on. You put out a nice brand of corn each week," says a woman. Can't figure out whether that's an insult or a compliment.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS—For gifts received last week, want to thank Cecil Stokes of Auratone fame and Bing Crosby. Auratone, you know, is motion pictures in color of music. Came a lunchcloth last week with a color picture of Crosby's voice singing "Home on the Range." Best part of it was the signature in Bing's own hand, wishing me best wishes. And to think that the youngest G played accompaniments for Sinatra. . . . And I want to thank Alice Robare for that sketch she did of me. It made quite a hit with my friends, who were unanimous in declaring the artist had a lot of imagination. . . . And to Western Air. Since they inaugurated air mail service to the Village, things are speeding up. Got a letter at 6 p.m., last night mailed in Dodge City, Kansas, early yesterday. That's speed.

IN CONCLUSION—Mark December 6, next Thursday, on your calendar and go to the Racquet club. That night Charley Farrell is turning his spot over to the Welfare and Friendly Aid association for a benefit for the local Youth Center. A good time and the satisfaction of aiding a great cause will be your reward.

Traffic Parking Problems Subject At City-Wide Rally

Solution of the increasing serious parking and traffic problem in Palm Springs will be sought at a city-wide meeting called for next Tuesday evening at the city council chambers, 810 North Palm Canyon drive.

The meeting is sponsored by the Retail Merchants' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. All businessmen of the city are urged to attend the meeting, which will open at 7:30 p.m.

URGES ALL TO ATTEND

Plans for the important session, at which the businessmen's viewpoint on the critical downtown problems will be sought, were laid at a meeting of the merchants' committee recently. (Please Turn to Page Four)

Christmas Party Set For Dec. 21

Retail Merchants Committee to Handle 16th Annual Event

More than 1,000 Palm Springs children are expected to be guests at the traditional Christmas Tree party to be staged this year on December 21. Plans for the affair are being mapped today.

This sixteenth annual Christmas Tree event will be under the direction of the retail merchants committee of the chamber of commerce with Earl Hough, popular insurance man, as chairman of the special committee in charge. The merchants accepted responsibility for the work in connection with the Yuletide program at the request of Mrs. C. S. Henderson, who, with the assistance of several other Palm Springs women, has directed the happy party in the past. She is assisting the committee in the financing and other details.

SELECT COMMITTEE

Chairman Hough is selecting a committee of eight merchants to produce the party which is always presented on the last Friday before Christmas. Aid of the entire retail merchants committee and their wives may be asked at the time the 1,000 stockings are stuffed, Hough said.

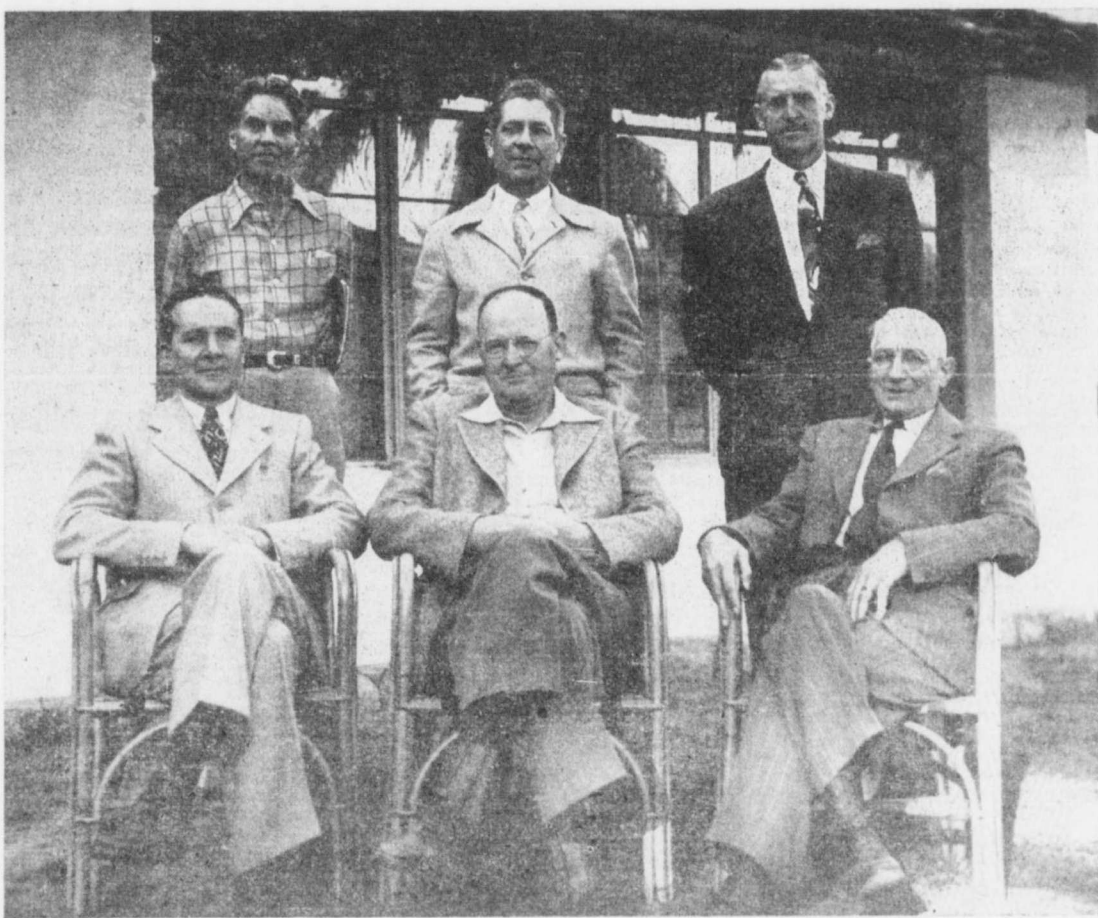

As in the past it is planned to have Santa Claus arrive by airplane and be transported downtown in Trav Rogers' stage coach. Starting from near the Del Tahquitz hotel Santa's parade will pass through the business district and on to the Frances Stephens school where the stockings will be distributed and the wishes of the little tots will be heard by St. Nick.

The party has been financed each year by private subscriptions obtained by Mrs. Philip Boyd, Mrs. Henderson and others. It is planned to continue this type of support for the event as the donors are believed to desire to continue their assistance.

License Hearing Scheduled Dec. 6

An examiner for the state board of equalization will be in Palm Springs next Thursday to conduct public hearings on the applications of two local firms for liquor licenses. They are the applications of Irwin Schuman for the new lounge in the Palm Canyon hotel and of Louis Thomson of the La Cita cafe.

The hearing is scheduled for the city council chambers, 810 North Palm Canyon, at 2 p.m., on December 6.

Earl Coffman Chairman of Tram Board

Earl Coffman and John R. E. Chaffey of Palm Springs, were elected to president and secretary of the seven-man Mt. San Jacinto Winter Park Authority, which will complete plans for the world's largest and highest passenger tramway. The meeting of the board, first of its kind, took place last Friday, November 24, at the Desert Inn here and also saw the election of John McKenzie, Hollywood Turf Club executive as treasurer, and the appointment of Henry Lockwood, of Los Angeles as legal counselor for the commission.

Aside from the election of officers and the appointment of Lockwood as attorney, initial routine matters were discussed. The next meeting will take place December 9 in Palm Springs again.

Woman Injured, Trailer Wrecked, By Explosion

Mrs. Raymond Godshalk, who with her husband and the family pet dog, reside at Orchard Trailer park, was recovering today from burns received Tuesday night when accumulated gas in a stove in their trailer exploded.

Mr. and Mrs. Godshalk had just returned from the theater to their trailer and planned to brew a pot of coffee before retiring. When Mrs. Godshalk touched a match to the stove there was a blast which blew the top off the trailer and blew out the sides.

Mrs. Godshalk's dress was set afire and she was slightly burned about the arms and face. Dr. P. A. Staley, who attended her, said her injuries were not serious.

Mr. Godshalk and the family dog, seated near the stove, were unharmed. Fortunately, there was no fire following the blast.

Mr. Godshalk is a former Associated Press man. They have been here for three years.

In Loma Linda hospital on Sunday, Nov. 25, a son was born to the wife of James Russell Maynard. Mr. Maynard was formerly a member of the local police force.

Lt. Col. Beach Takes Charge at Air Base

Lt. Colonel Rex W. Beach assumed command of the local army air base last Monday, November 26. He succeeded Lt. Col. Floyd S. Cofer, who has been transferred to Wright Field, Ohio.

Colonel Beach came here directly from the 6th Ferrying Group at Long Beach where he was stationed for more than a month. His wife, Linabell, and son and daughter will join him here in Palm Springs within the very near future, he said.

SERVED OVERSEAS

The new commanding officer, who is 31 years of age, has only been in the Air Transport Command for a short period of time. He was assigned to that branch of the army air forces on his return to the United States after service with the famous 8th Army Air Forces in England. A member of the 388th heavy bombardment group, he was a pilot of a flying fortress and completed 22 bombing missions over Europe. He is the possessor of the Distinguished Flying Cross, the air medal with oak leaf clusters, the European theater ribbon with 5 campaign stars and the American defense ribbon. He also holds the distinguished unit citation.

Col. Beach joined the army as a flying cadet in August, 1940, and was commissioned as a 2nd lieutenant on graduation, March 15, 1941. He went into the air corps on graduation from the University of Wyoming, where he earned a bachelor of arts degree, in June of 1940.

The colonel said nothing exciting ever happened to him while overseas. However it was learned that during one mission he had a bombardier wounded, his rudder control shot away and other controls badly damaged. One engine of his aircraft was also put out of commission; however, he landed the ship safely in England.

In his first official announcement as commanding officer, he declared that he will cooperate in every way possible with citizens of Palm Springs and is looking forward to meeting the city's executives, and members of the various civic organizations.

Villagers Pay Tribute To Col. A. B. Jones

A large gathering of Villagers, including city officials and Chamber of Commerce officers and members gathered at the Desert Inn last night to compliment Col. A. B. Jones, commanding officer of Torney General hospital.

It was a farewell party for the Army officer who has so efficiently conducted the big hospital here and cemented close relations with the Village. The hospital will close soon. A handsome gift was presented to Col. Jones.

Civic Center Plan Given Full Approval

Civic Groups Meet With Council to Discuss Big Project

Acquisition of Torney General hospital buildings, equipment and land by the city of Palm Springs is assured, if the voiced approval of civic organizations and private citizens present Wednesday afternoon at the public hearing held by the city council in its chamber is to be taken as a criterion.

It further developed that if the council acts to acquire Torney General, an increase in the tax rate above the one dollar per thousand now in effect will have to be voted, and if the army declares the property surplus before the regular April elections, a special election will have to be called to vote the increase in taxation.

DATE STILL UNKNOWN

When the army will declare Torney General surplus still remained in the dark and Colonel A. B. Jones, commanding officer who was present, could throw no light on the subject.

Of the more than 100 private citizens present at the meeting, most of whom were representing civic and fraternal orders, not a dissenting voice was raised against the proposed project of acquiring the properties. Mayor E. E. Theriault, who presided at the council table read letters from various groups approving the acquisition which also contained requests for specific buildings and equipment these organizations could use in the conduct of their respective activities.

Florian Boyd, president of the Community Hospital association, drew the spotlight of attention, when it was found that no letter voicing the position of his organization had been received by the council.

He was asked by Councilman Culver Nichols if a letter outlining (Please Turn to Page Five)

Cathedral City to Open New Post Office Monday

New Structure to Be Occupied With Added Conveniences

Monday, December 3, is going to be a big day in the history of Cathedral City. Their new post office building will be open for public use and convenience on that day, and Postmistress Edna Cobb is making plans for a big day, the first in a building set aside exclusively for Uncle Sam's mail.

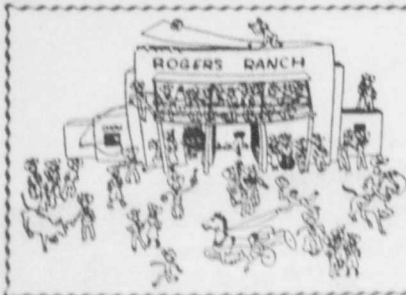

It was just a little more than 17 years ago that a post office was established in Cathedral City for the benefit of a handful of settlers there, and the first mail was delivered to the community on Nov. 9, 1928. Prior to that, residents there got their mail in one big box at the local post office. Margarita Gumprecht was appointed first postmistress, but did not serve, the business house, where the Cathedral City grocery now stands, having just been sold to Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cobb. Mrs. Nellie M. Cobb, mother of Claude Cobb, was appointed acting postmistress, and served until the next year, when her husband was named postmaster.

APPOINTED TO POST

On July 1, 1929, Claude and Edna Cobb took over the store property and Mrs. Cobb took over the post office duties. In May, 1936, she was appointed postmistress by Postmaster General James Farley, the office then being fourth class. On July 1, (Please Turn to Page Eight)

from ROGERS RANCH

Midst all the social whirl that goes on out at Rogers during the evening, folks some times forget that we still have lots of horses for riding, pulling the stage coach or hay-rack or tallyho. Just last Saturday there was another breakfast ride, which was greatly enjoyed by the two cutest cowgirls in the Village, Betty and Kay, Sol Lesser's daughters. They, and the rest of the folks, really went for Johnny Lyon's cooking, too... real Western stuff.

Let's get off our horses for a minute, though, and get back to the re-opening of the corral. Lots of folks there, including Charlie and Molly Burns (21 Club, N. Y.; 21 Ballantyne Scotch, etc.); Charlie and Doris Morrison (Hollywood Moccambo); Director Harry Joe Brown, Paul and Daisy Lukas, Eddie Bragno (Larkmead wine boss); and, lo and behold, Villager Frang Borgart, who's planning a big ranch near P.S. Most everybody came attired in Western regalia, and those who didn't, dashed over to Irene's and dolled up in one way or another.

TEMPORARY ONLY

Bill Dorier and Ed Leshin, the erstwhile Rogers Ranch proprietors (strictly on a temporary basis, Trav hopes) got Glenn out of the bed the other night by faking a call from Rio de Janeiro.

Tuesday was steak ride night, with, among the many, Maury and Betty Karcher, Hilda Rhoads and her little cowboy son, Byron, Wanda Bruno and Scribner Sweeney... who might just as well help us with our column some time as to aid Glenn's literary endeavors. On returning from the ride, who should be in serious conversation with Trav but Bill Powell.

Bill Darin and his lovely wife were out. He designed those ultra smart Darin Packards and Henry Kaiser's new jalopy to be marketed soon. Bill is now working on an idea for a saddle with the tree made of magnesium instead of wood which would make the saddle much lighter and stronger.

$5,000,000 Phone Cable Via Pass

The Southern California Telephone Company has asked permission of the Federal Communications Commission to place an eight-tube coaxial cable from Phoenix to Los Angeles, through the San Geronimo Pass at a cost of $5,000,000.

The cable is planned as a joint project of the American Telegraph and Telephone company in the Bell System's program to establish a nationwide network.

The Southern California Telephone company announced that because of susceptibility to temperature changes and to afford maximum protection from damage, the cable will be underground for practically its entire length.

The western end of the cable will pass from Los Angeles east through El Monte, San Bernardino, Beaumont, Banning, White-water and Blythe.

The new cable will provide a large number of additional telephone circuits. Transmission over this type of conductor employs frequencies also used for radio. The impulses are wire-directed and travel through a space which has been segregated electrically from all other space by the tube, which not only guides these impulses, but protects them from fading, static and other similar troubles of ordinary radio transmission.

Spread It On Thin

A young lady teacher in Sunday School was giving a talk on civiled each day, and how we ought to return thanks to the Lord before each meal. To illustrate, she turned to Junior, whose father was a deacon and a shining light in the church and asked: Teacher: "Junior, what is the first thing your father says on coming to the table?"

Junior: "He says, 'Go slow on the butter, kids! I don't know where the next pound is coming from.'"

Juvenile Delinquent Camp May be Put in Mountains

Poppett Flats on the Banning-Idyllwild road in the mountains south of Banning, may be developed into a county forestry camp for juvenile delinquents, it was learned at the meeting of the board of supervisors, Monday, when Chairman Robert E. Dillon of Beaumont said that the Poppett Flats site had already been viewed by the board, who thought it would be a suitable site for such a camp.

An important step toward the establishing of such a camp was taken by the board of supervisors Monday when they authorized the juvenile committee to cooperate with the county probation committee and representatives of the grand jury in inspecting sites.

The board acted following a discussion with Judge O. K. Morton of the Riverside county juvenile court, Gordon Banker of the grand jury, and members of the county probation committee.

Judge Morton stated that during August there were 19 cases in which boys would have been placed in the camp, and 14 in September. Average length of stay in a juvenile camp is six months, it was stated.

INITIAL COST $15,000

Initial cost of installing the camp is estimated at $15,000, it was brought out. It is considered likely that San Bernardino and Orange county would enter an agreement for joint use of the camp. A state subsidy is available covering maintenance expense not to exceed $50 per boy per month, the supervisors were told.

One building at Poppett Flats is available for use as a nucleus of the camp, the topography of the surrounding country is well suited and climatic conditions are healthful, it was brought out.

Cost of maintenance of the camp is estimated at from $80 to $100 per month per boy, with day-to-day cost reduced by the state contributions.

As now planned, Riverside county's juvenile delinquency camp would be designed to accommodate up to 60 boys.

When W. R. Graham, speaking for the county probation committee, asked for a definite commitment by the county governing board, Chairman Dillon replied that the board is unanimously in favor of establishing a camp at the earliest possible date.

The driver who always insists on taking the right-of-way will not need it very long.

To the People of this Community

Leave it to the nation's school children to be on top of the ball when it comes to sizing up the war financing situation. From Pearl Harbor to V-J Day they dedicated each purchase and sale of war bonds to fighting equipment. Then the Japs quit.

Schools at War instantly became Schools For Peace. The theme shifted from "Back the Attack" to "Speed His Recovery." The new goal was set at 35,000 hospital units, including a bed, wheel chair, X-Ray machine and surgical instruments.

Grownups could well listen to one of the millions of youngsters who are taking part in the Victory Loan. Even without a word from the young volunteer, you have one of the main reasons for buying extra Victory Bonds—the future of the "salesman" who may be your own son or daughter. Your war bonds have just helped to defeat the Nazis and Japs who would have educated your children for death. Your extra Victory Bonds will assure a brighter life for tomorrow's citizens.

LITTLE CHATS ON PUBLIC NOTICES

Sounding One's Horn

By J. E. Pollard

There's quite a difference between sounding one's horn and blowing it. The difference persists whether the "blowing" is literal or figurative. The one may be as necessary as the other is objectional.

To give a Public Notice, especially one of the many kinds required or permitted by law, is like sounding one's horn. It is done beforehand with consideration for some one else. In particular it is done for the protection of others.

Such a Public Notice, carried in the columns of the local newspaper of general circulation, is designed to do two things: to give notice or warning that a certain action is contemplated, and to afford all who may be affected by it a chance to protect their rights in the matter. The principle is the same whether the issue is great or small and whether it affects few or many. The important thing is to give the Notice the widest possible advance publicity within reason.

Just Like a Man

A young mother came to the door of the nursery and saw her husband standing over the baby's crib. Silently she watched him as he stood looking down at the sleeping infant. In his face she read rapture, doubt, admiration, ecstasy, incredulity, wonder. Deeply touched, with her eyes glistening, she tiptoed near, slipped her arm around him.

"A penny for your thoughts," she said tenderly. Started into consciousness, he blurted. "For the life of me I don't see how anybody can make a crib like that for $3.49!"

Poplars are called the "whispering trees" because as one leaf hits against another it makes a whispering sound.

Civil Air Patrol Squadron Plans For Active Season

Reorganization for the new season will be the object of the Palm Springs squadron of the Civil Air Patrol at a meeting next Monday night at Palm Springs high school.

The public is invited, servicemen and old as well as new members are urged to attend. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock.

A lecture on aerodynamics and the start of a course in ground school training for private flyers and private pilots licenses, is planned.

Arrangements have been made for those interested, to take lessons in flying at a nearby air park.

Red Cross Notes

The Cathedral City unit of Red Cross has resumed its regular meetings every Monday and Thursday from one to four in the afternoon. The average attendance for the month of November has been low compared to the two previous years. All workers are urged to attend as their efforts are just as badly needed as they were during the war. Our hospitals are crowded with wounded men and the production of Red Cross workers is sought for and greatly appreciated. We must not let these men down.

Mrs. Ruth Childs has returned from Davenport, Washington, where she spent the summer visiting her two sons. She will continue as sewing chairman of the unit.

Mrs. O. D. Wenger turned in a beautiful Afghan which she completed during the summer. This was turned over to the Riverside chapter and will be given to some boy in a nearby hospital. Plenty of material is on hand for sweaters, socks, washcloths, Afghans and slippers.

The following canteen workers have volunteered and are very enthusiastic about the work: Mr. and Mrs. A. Braine, Mr. and Mrs. D. Graham, Mr. Art Alton, Mr. Fred Springer, Mr. L. G. White, Mr. O. Weisel, Edith Barrett, Genevieve Robinson, Ruth Sanders, Augusta Griffith, Caroline Kelly, Beatrice Kyser, Emma Hammill, Amelia Mattison, Margaret Potter, Dorothy Crawford, Ruth Childs, Wenona Smedley, Hilda Tarr, Mr. and Mrs. Don Maher, Izola Eubanks, Sitherwood and Francine Melrose.

More workers are needed. If anyone is interested, please contact Francine Melrose, chairman of the Cathedral City Red Cross unit.

The secret of making perfect salads consists of observing the three "C's"—keeping them cold, crisp and crunchy. Wash greens and shake off excess water, clean and wipe dry vegetables or fruits and store them in porcelain enameled refrigerator dishes to keep them cold and their condition perfect. Just before serving toss ingredients together with salad dressing.

"I Rise to Remark"

By CONGRESSMAN JOHN PHILLIPS

There is a determining factor, in the present "investigation" of Pearl Harbor, which will have to be settled before the people learn the truth about that fiasco, which cost the homes of the nation more than three thousand casualties and gave the country its greatest Naval defeat.

Is the Pearl Harbor Committee a judicial body, or is it an investigating body?

You have read the attacks on the committee, by various administration-supporting columnists; over the radio, and sometimes in the press. The speech of the Postmaster-General a few days ago is an illustration. This is all part of the present Washington picture. Criticism of the administration brings down on the head of the critic the full force of New Deal, and left-wing propaganda, including personal attacks, and the well-known distortion of what was meant, or actually said.

Coming back to Pearl Harbor: If the committee is a judicial committee, as the Democratic members wish to make it, then all it does is to consider material laid before it by the department, through its own counsel. It makes its decisions from this material.

If it is an investigating committee, then the committee investigates the sources of the material and the reports, and all the papers and records incident to the Pearl Harbor attack and the several days before the attack. The committee in this case does not accept merely what is offered it, but makes sure that all material has been furnished and all supporting data are there.

The chief counsel for the committee was selected by the Democratic majority, with the approval of the Republican minority. He is a former assistant attorney-general of the United States. He seemed to be a disinterested choice. He has, however, supported the maneuver of the Democratic majority, to force the committee to act only as a judicial body. He has interpreted his job as one of preparing for the committee such records and material as have been furnished by the Army, the Navy, or the State Department.

The question on this point, now in the minds of members of the Congress, has been increased by his appointment of three aides. All three were appointed with the prior knowledge, and without the approval of the Republican minority members of the committee. One is the law partner of the Assistant Secretary of State, and since this executive department is one under

Great Dinner to Aid Youth Center Planned Dec. 6

Villagers will combine good works with lots of fun on Dec. 6, when the swish Racquet Club will open its doors for a benefit dinner dance for the Youth Center. Tickets for this auspicious event may be purchased through members of the Welfare and Friendly Aid Association and as the affair is limited to 175 guests, tickets should be secured early.

Frank Bogert, the town's top glamour boy of the pre-war Western era, will serve as master of ceremonies.

TO ACQUIRE LOT

Object of the dinner dance is to raise money to complete the purchase of a lot on Belardo Road which is the site of a Youth Center building for the use of Palm Springs young people. The building itself has already been given the community by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. A. Peake, who have pledged $20,000 for its construction.

Charlie Farrell, Racquet Club owner, opens the club for the first time in its history for a benefit party, which is a good indication of how the town's young people and their interests rate around the club. Mr. Farrell, in addition to contributing the club, will give the services of his staff for the party.

LOTS OF TURKEY

Rene LeClair, a resident of Palm Springs for many years, is certainly one of the benefit's big party. A large poultry raiser, he has agreed to furnish all the turkeys for a turkey dinner, through his firm, the Coast Poultry Co., of Los Angeles. Other food purveyors who are contributing toward the dinner are the Desert Produce Co., and the Paledine Seafood Co. Mr. Cooke of the Palm Springs Florist, has entered into the idea with an offer of flowers for the tables and a nosegay for each lady. Contributors of prizes which will be auctioned off, and they are becoming prizes, are: Jewels by Alchian, El Paseo Pharmacy, Desert Garden Date Shop, Sam and Leo, Indianaya, Fulton's Sportswear Shop, Palm Springs Import Company, Desmond's and others still to be heard from.

Dorothy was driving her car the other night and stopped at a service station. "I want a quart of red oil," she said to the service man. He gasped and hesitated. "Give me a quart of red oil," she repeated.

"A quart of red oil?" he stammered.

"Certainly," she said, "my tail light has gone out."

Two Local Crash Victims' Deaths Said Accidental

Deaths of two persons from injuries received in automobile accidents in Riverside county during the past week have been signed out by Coroner Ben F. White's office as accidental, on the basis of statements taken by Deputy Coroner Arvid M. Depeew, who investigated.

Victims of the accidents were Robert Elder, 32, of Palm Springs and Bird H. Reynolds, 66, of New York, who died as result of a crash here.

Elder died at the Coachella Valley hospital Monday of injuries received in an accident southeast of Indio November 22. Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Banning, with Rev. Harry Gromer of the Baptist church there, officiating. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Elder, and two small children, who reside in Indio, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elder of Banning. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. E. M. Beckham and Mrs. Thomas Lashley, both of Banning.

Reynolds, who was taken to the Torney general hospital in a car from the convey of Sir Arthur William Tedder, chief of the British Air Force, died in Arlington, November 23.

Crash Injuries Prove Fatal to B. H. Reynolds

Bird H. Reynolds, 66, died Friday morning at the Arlington hospital as a result of injuries received when the car he was driving turned over, pinning him beneath it.

The accident happened on a curve between Palm Springs and Cathedral City Wednesday, November 15, and stopped the convoy, taking Sir Arthur Tedder and Lady Tedder to the Jacqueline Cochran ranch, when the English nobleman insisted on rendering first aid and personally taking Bee Savage, passenger in the automobile to Torney General hospital. Miss Savage suffered minor injuries.

"There you are my dear," she said, "my first turkey," as she proudly placed the steaming bird on the dinner table.

"It looks wonderful, darling!" her husband responded. "What did you stuff it with?"

"Stuff it!" exclaimed the bride. "Why, dearie, this one wasn't hollow."

Disposition of Airport Biggest Topic of Week

The disposition of the army air base here came in for considerable discussion by private citizens and aviation enthusiasts last week and was high lighted by a telegraphic communication from Eddie Rickenbacker, president of Eastern Air Lines, that Palm Springs was included as one of sixty communities his company would like to serve in an application filed with the Civil Aeronautics board in Washington, D. C.

Edgar Bergen, film and radio ventriloquist, John Winn of Phoenix and Long Beach, aircraft dealer; Norman Granger, airport manager, and winter guests all made suggestions anent the operation of the local airport when the army declares it surplus and if it is acquired by the city of Palm Springs. All were of the opinion that the city should acquire all of the airport facilities and have a direct hand in its operations.

URGES STRICT CONTROL

Mayor E. E. Theriault, recipient of the telegram from Captain Eddie Rickenbacker acquainting him with the application filed November 30 with the Civil Aeronautics board in which Palm Springs was named as one of 60 cities the company would like to serve, said it was his opinion the city would exercise stringent control of the operation of the air base when declared surplus by the army.

"It's my opinion that the city council favors placing the operation of an individual or organization financially able to operate it successfully," said the mayor.

STAR LANDS HERE

On the other hand, Edgar Bergen, who personally landed his private plane on the old air strip, voiced the opinion that Palm Springs should operate its own airport in order to control possible abuses and objectionable situations which might arise under private operation.

Edgar Bergen, who holds a commercial pilots license, and who spent two days here with his wife, said the airport could easily be made to pay its own way. He added that if reasonably priced service and good landing facilities were not available at Palm Springs, fliers would go elsewhere.

TYPE WANTED HERE

"Flying groups represent the type of people Palm Springs should want as winter guests," said Bergen. "On an average they are better off financially and socially than the motoring trade," he added.

"If the airport here is given into the hands of private parties, they will be able to dictate who shall and shall not land," stated Winn. "I believe the city of Palm Springs should take the airport and run it. Every city does, and the revenues it would derive would be large."

OVERNIGHT GUESTS

He added that small planes have to stop at Palm Springs before attempting to negotiate the pass to the coast. If the weather was unsatisfactory, these fliers would have to stop in Palm Springs over night.

"The weather station here is of great importance to commercial flying, too," Winn said. "This would add to the commercial value of the airport from a standpoint of income." He pointed out without direct rail connections to the Village it would profit greatly by the flying tourist trade.

George Archer, member of the Palm Springs chapter of the National Air association, declared that there are enough members in his organization who are willing to lease parts of the airport, for flying schools, hangar service, and other affiliated businesses to guarantee the city almost an immediate revenue. He voiced this statement at the open meeting of the city council held in its chambers last Wednesday afternoon.

Steve Brody, president of Monogram Pictures, and Wilbur P. Davis, manager of Colonial House, opined that if Palm Springs doesn't have air field facilities, the growth of aviation in popularity would find other resorts benefiting from this increasing trade. It was pointed out that Las Vegas is within easy flying distance.

SHOULD HAVE OWN

"Palm Springs should have its own municipally controlled airport," was the opinion of Norman Granger, manager of the Rancho Mirage airport. His mother, Mrs. Clemie Granger, is president of the Palm Springs N.A.A.

At the same time he urged that something be done about the danger in the use of the landing strip of the old Palm Springs airport. Private planes continue to use this field.

"There are no safety devices out there," he said. "And if it is to be held open somebody should

Little Man Is Forgetting GI Joe And What He Did; Sale of E Bonds In Village Far Behind Quota Set

The "little" man in average financial circumstances is forgetting GI Joe, the battles he won, and why he died!

This was clearly evident in the lagging sales of E Victory Bonds here in Palm Springs—bonds originally issued by the government particularly for the benefit of the "little" man.

PURCHASES LIMIT

"I like many others have already purchased the amount of E bonds the government will permit to be sold to one person in any single year," announced Holland. "What surprises me, is the utter lack of interest on the part of wage-earners for whom these bonds were really issued."

Total sales of all bonds reported amounted to $247,104.25, against a quota of $281,168.

FAILURE INDICATED

"The remainder of this quota will be easily attained," declared Holland, "and will probably be surpassed—but E bonds, where the city should make its best showing, looms like a great disappointment."

In line with a national movement, Chairman Holland this noon asked Mayor E. E. Theriault to proclaim the week of December 3 to December 7, as "E Bond Week." The drive will commemorate the fourth anniversary of Japanese treachery at Pearl Harbor.

The mayor will issue his proclamation later today in accordance with the nation-wide movement.

It was suggested that students at the local high school could be of great help in stepping up the sale of E bonds. A prominent citizen when appraised of disinterest in these bonds, suggested that a valuable prize could be offered the student selling the greatest number of bonds in this, the last week of the current drive.

be out at the airport as manager and prevent "horseplay." He added that there are no wheel chucks, fire control or wind-sock at the field and this is a menace to life and property.

WARNS OF DANGER

"One of these days," he continued, "a pilot will crank his aircraft motor and before he can run around and jump into the cockpit, the plane may run wild and crash into somebody's building." He said during his 25 years around airplanes he has seen many freak accidents happen.

Mayor Theriault said he believed the council favored private ownership and pointed out that the maintenance of the airport would require an immediate outlay of considerable cash which the city does not have.

"It is believed that in the leasing of the airport certain regulations can be put into the agreement which would guarantee everybody using the airport, a fair deal and at the same time save the city a great deal of money," the mayor declared.

MORE ABOUT . . .

Congestion . . .

Joseph Butler, manager of the Safeway Store here, is chairman of the group. He has asked that all firms be represented, as it is important that the city council and planning commission have the cooperation of all business houses in the effort to solve the traffic congestion, which is increasing, rather than diminishing.

In order to have the basic facts available to the larger group, Chairman Butler has divided the merchants' committee into six sub-committees to study six initial phases of the problems. Chairmen of these sub-committees will present their findings as a basis for discussion by the entire group.

NAME COMMITTEES

These subjects and the committees investigating each one are as follows:

Palm Canyon "Elephant Train" bus—Leo Baker, chairman; Fred Fulton, Tom Holland, James Hume, Irwin Schuman and Ruth Sushan.

Prohibition of parking during certain hours on Palm Canyon Drive—Merrill Crockett, chairman; John DeVine, Newton Hotchkiss, Mrs. Fleeta Hubbell and Roland Gray.

Off - street parking — Earl Hough, chairman; J. E. Ballard, Frederick Watson and Kenneth DuBois.

Loading zones — Jud Osborn, chairman; Milton Hicks, James Hume and "Shorty" Knapp.

Traffic Laws Clarification and Codification — Harry Bernhard, chairman; George B. Dennis, H. C. Moseley, and James Coffman.

Truck Routing Around Palm Springs — Floyd Bigley, chairman; Wall Spalding, Blanche Denslow, William Ude, Walter Worden and H. R. Mennel.

It is the hope of the merchants' committee that out of the December 4 meeting and another to be called later, will come definite recommendations which can be presented to the city council and the planning commission with the complete backing of the business firms, according to Chairman Butler.

WILL GROW WORSE

"We can look forward only to a heightening of our downtown congestion as the season advances," Butler said. "The merchants' committee wishes to be of any assistance possible to the city council and planning commission, which are the agencies having these major problems to solve."

It had been hoped that individual invitations could be sent out to all business firms in the city announcing the Tuesday meeting, but the press of work at the Chamber of Commerce office has prevented this, making the invitation by newspaper the only means of reaching them, the chairman said.

Nylon Auction and Premier Aid Local War Loan Campaign

A nylon hose auction increased interest in the race for "Bond Queen" of Palm Springs, and the premier showing of "Too Young to Know" at the Plaza theatre Wednesday night spurred the sales of bonds in the current Victory bond campaign here.

One dozen pairs of nylon hose, the monthly quota of Lykken's Department store, was donated by Tom Holland, its owner, in a novel auction held from the stage of the theatre, and brought $9,750 in sales of bonds.

JIMMY ROGERS LEADS

It was also disclosed that "Jimmie" Rogers of Rogers Stables is leading her opponent, Gloria Flavin, in the race for title of "Queen" to represent Palm Springs in the finals at Riverside. The sale of bonds through the efforts of the local theatres and Earle Strebe, their owner, has netted the campaign more than $25,000 toward the Village quota.

Rudy Buchanan, theatre manager, who acted as auctioneer of the nylon stockings in lots of three, "knocked" the first sale "down" to Mrs. Edward R. Bacon, 484 Stevens, for the purchase of $3,000 in bonds. Mrs. Charles Hassenbusch, 504 Indian Trail, and winter resident from Detroit, had her bid of $1,750 accepted in one of the three sales.

LOOKS AFTER HEALTH

The highest "price" paid was $5,000 by a theatre attendant, who refused to divulge his name to reporters with the statement that he purchased them for the "girl-friend" and it wouldn't be healthy for him if a certain person should read the story.

The premier showing of "Too Young to Know" obtained through the courtesy of Warner Bros. by Earle Strebe, was warmly received by the audience, who was only able to obtain admission through the purchase of bonds.

More than 50,000,000 pairs, or about one of every five pairs of nonrubber boots, shoes and slippers made in the United States in the first half of 1945 were made in New York State.

Planning Expert From Los Angeles Looks Over Village

Charles B. Bennett, director of planning for Los Angeles, will be special guest at a dinner here tonight at 7 p.m. at the Desert Inn when he will meet members of the local planning commission and city council.

William L. Dean, chairman of the local planners, will preside. With Harold Hicks, he took Mr. Bennett on a tour of the city, explaining local planning problems. Mr. Bennett will present views on city planning, drawn from years of experience in such work. Mr. Dean said that the visitor's expert views would be much help to the local planning commission.

Edgar Bergen To Be In New Disney Picture, In the Wood and in the Flesh, He Says While Resting Here

That ancient gag claiming—that husbands cannot teach their wives how to drive, was modernized by Edgar Bergen here the other day when he said "that husbands may not be able to teach their 'better-halves' to pilot an aircraft, either."

Bergen, who has been flying for the past five years, and the owner of a flying field located in Montebello, is the possessor of a commercial license. Flying at PT 19, formerly used in the Army for training purposes, he landed his plane at the old Palm Springs airport this week.

Asked if he was going to teach his new wife how to fly, he shied away from the question, but finally admitted that husbands may have a hard time teaching their wives how to solo.

"In the first place," he said, referring to his wife, "she has no depth perception, judging by the way she, like a lot of women, judge distances when driving an automobile. All I want her to do is to hold the 'stick' when we are in the air and I am reading maps," he added.

And Mrs. Bergen smilingly agreed with the ventriloquist, who said he is working in a Walt Disney comic cartoon.

"Yes," he said, elaborating, "I am appearing in a Disney picture to be called 'Mickey and the Beanstalk'—both in wood and in the flesh."

That should irk Charlie McCarthy.

Here comes winter again! Why not use your summer's gardening time to do over your closet, making it a really attractive part of your room? Sparkling walls are an easy accomplishment if you use one of the water color paints available and select a rich, warm tone. Investment in a shoe bag or rack, matching pretty-print hatbox, garment bag and cardboard chest of drawers will give you a decorator's result on a housewife's budget.

Civic Center . . .

ing the position of his organization had been prepared. When Boyd said that one had been publicly report its contents at that time.

"I can tell you, Mr. Nichols," he smiled, "that the letter will indicate great interest in the actions of the city council and the community in the acquisition of Torney hospital." "Speaking personally," he added, "I would like the city to acquire the property."

SUGGEST USE

The uses to which the various buildings would be put as outlined in the letters and by personal representation ranged from a place in which the local high school basketball team could play its games, a home for the Masonic order here, to the chapel on the grounds, where Catholic, Protestant and Jew, could worship. The Desert School district put in a bid for five acres for a school site, claiming it was necessary to keep pace with the rapid growth of Palm Springs.

Dr. John R. Macartney declared that the council should acquire Torney General hospital and prepare for the inevitable growth of the city. He particularly layed stress on the preservation of the chapel on the Torney grounds and that it be converted to the use of a church and Sunday school for the large number of people and children residing in that section of the city.

FOR ALL FAITHS

"It could be used as a Sunday school for children and free for all religious denominations, Catholic, Jew, and Protestant, in which to worship," averred the minister.

The Palm Springs Desert Museum wrote that it might have to leave its quarters in the library building and could use 10 acres for a garden, a building in which to place its displays, and lecture rooms.

The parks and locations committee reported favorably on the park area as suggested by J. A. Wolley, engineer, but wanted further time in which to study his proposed site for an 18 hole golf course. Mr. Wolley, employed by the city November 7 to make a complete survey of government properties here and their probable use by the city and various civic groups, submitted that report to the council last week.

Harry Harper, executive secretary of the chamber of commerce, said that his organization would use between 2,500 and 3,000 feet of floor space in which to carry on the expanding activities of the chamber.

Other groups who could use buildings or land were: the Palm Springs Girl Scouts; Frank Partidge for the Boys club, which would like the gymnasium; Lucetta Lippman for the local chapter of Red Cross, which would like a building; the Youth Center and Friendly Aid association, which in a personal survey on November 27, designated a building which it could use. Josephine Sprague of the Palm Springs Woman's club said her organization was wholeheartedly behind the purchase of Torney General.

FOR MEDICAL USE

Councilman Nichols reported an interview he had with Dr. Hugh Stevens, internal medicine department of Sanson hospital at Santa Barbara. Nichols said the doctor would like to bring his practice to Palm Springs and would be able to use at least 20 rooms at Torney General hospital for his own patients.

"If we have adequate hospital facilities," Nichols said, "it would attract many more medical specialists and patients to Palm Springs. I hope," he continued, "the Community hospital committee is making a careful study of A and B buildings of the hospital and its equipment."

Frank Cutler, speaking for himself, addressed the audience and council declaring that he hoped the city would take advantage of the golden opportunity to acquire Torney General hospital.

Roy Colgate, city attorney, explained the legal ramifications involved in the purchase. He said the city could purchase the property legally and could lease all or portions of it to non-profit organizations. He made the city's position in the matter entirely clear, telling what could and what could not be done.

Jack Lasley and Bride Feted at Great Reception

The Latin Quarter was closed last night—but it's sides were bulging with the great crowd present to greet Jack Lasley and his new bride, the former Mrs. Oelkers of Asheville, North Carolina, at a great reception with more than 200 Villagers feting the newlyweds.

The marriage was solemnized at Yuma at the Chapel there on November 20.

Most of the entertainers from Village spots were on hand to sing and play for the entertainment of the large gathering and there was excellent dance music by Adrian Ruiz and his orchestra.

A buffet supper topped off the evening and dozens of flash bulbs were exploded as photographers snapped the happy couple and the big wedding cake.

Mr. Lasley is connected with the Chi Chi cafe and also a part-owner of the Desert Drug company.

A Story in Statistics

The navy's complete list of United States war vessels lost in the European and Pacific war tells, in its statistical tables, a rather interesting story of the decline and fall of the Jap battle fleet.

Of the 969 vessels lost, only 47 were sunk by the fire of Japanese surface ships. And from October, 1943, until the end of the war, the guns of Jap surface craft accounted for only 12 American vessels—one escort carrier, two destroyers and a destroyer escort, one submarine chaser, three PT boats, three LCIs and an LCS.

A Chicago man who is a great believer in efficiency hung up a sign in his office one day last week. It read, "Do it now."

Within 24 hours, the cashier had bolted with the contents of the safe, his stenographer eloped with his eldest son, and the office boy threw the ink bottle into the electric fan.

Transport Airplane Crashes in North After Leaving Here

Eight men, including three fliers and five homeward bound Japanese-American infantrymen, died Wednesday night in the crash of a C-47 transport three miles east of Auburn, army authorities announced after a final checkup last night. The plane had taken off from Palm Springs after being serviced by the Red Cross canteen here, only a few hours earlier.

Sixteen other "Nisie" passengers were seriously injured when the transport plowed into the ground while lost on a flight from the Village to McClellan field, about 25 miles northwest of Auburn.

The three air crew men killed were listed as 1st Lt. Jerry Cebbe, Taft, the pilot; Maj. Louie G. Martin, Patterson, Calif., co-pilot, and Cpl. P. G. Pitterle, Freeport, Ill., flight traffic clerk.

The injured, all of them burned and most with broken bones, were treated at the army's De Witt general hospital, only two miles from the scene of the crash. Army surgeons said they were resting as well as could be expected.

Homes of all 21 Japanese-Americans, who had served in Italy, were in the Hawaiian islands and they had been scheduled to sail from San Francisco yesterday. In view of the difficulty of notifying their families, the army said it would be at least a day before their names could be released.

The crash coincided with a storm-caused power failure in the area which survivors said hampered efforts of the pilot to determine his whereabouts. An investigating board was appointed to study the crash.

DENTAL CORPS FILLED 71,000,000 TEETH

The Army Dental Corps has made 71,000,000 fillings, 16,500,000 extractions, and 2,600,000 dentures for military personnel since Pearl Harbor, Ninth Service Command Surgeon's office learned today at Fort Douglas, Utah.

Three Injured in Three-Car Crash South of Village

A spectacular collision involving three automobiles, two of which smashed head on into each other at the intersection of highway 111 and Palm Canyon drive last Saturday night, resulted in the hospitalization of one of the occupants riding in one of the automobiles, and minor injuries to passengers in the two other cars.

Philip S. Isidro, bus boy at the Lone Palm sustained a broken collar bone and fractured ribs and was removed to the community hospital at Riverside. The drivers of the three cars involved in the collisions were James P. O'Reilly, 38, 1144 San Jacinto Way; John Werner, 40, 320 South Oakhurst drive, Beverly Hills, and Alfred S. Marcus, 42, 726 North McCadden Place, Hollywood, all of whom suffered only minor injuries which were treated at the office of Dr. I. W. Lynn. According to police officers investigating the accident, O'Reilly, with Isidro as a passenger, was driving west on highway 111 when he lost control of his automobile and side-swiped the automobile driven east by Werner. O'Reilly's car then careened off the side of the first car hit, and collided head on into the car operated by Marcus.

MORE ABOUT . . .

Cathedral City . . .

1941, Mrs. Cobb was appointed by President Roosevelt and the office advanced to third class. As the post office business expanded, it was removed from a few lock boxes in the grocery store to a separate room to the west.

The new building, opening Monday, is not a federal grant, but an investment by Mr. and Mrs. Cobb. Constructed of hollow tile with an attractive red tile roof, the structure is pleasing in design and arranged for convenience of its patrons.

GROWTH IS RAPID

In the first year of its operation, receipts at the post office were $48.32, in the next fiscal year, $1274.15. By 1941-42, receipts reached $2797.28, and last year, $4598.56, a 64 per cent increase in four years. Additional boxes are being added and a cement walk constructed by the owners from the highway to the building, which is located at Glenn avenue and Second streets.

Those who, in the confidence of superior capacities or attainments, neglect the common maxims of life, should be reminded that nothing will supply the want of prudence.—Samuel Johnson.

End of Ceiling Prices on Meat Would Not Mean Inflation Says Packer

Commenting on the lifting of rationing of choice cuts of meats and fats by the government, Irving Sokol, 25 years a meat packer and founder of the Interstate Beef company of Boston, said the lifting of ceiling prices should be the next immediate step taken by OPA and that it would not result in the skyrocketing of prices. Sokol and Mrs. Sokol are wintering at the Colonial House here.

"Prices would, in my opinion, drop below posted prices today," he declared, "and this would happen only if horse meat was shipped to Europe instead of beef."

SEND IT OVERSEAS

He went on to add that the people of Holland, France, Belgium and Italy are used to the consumption of horse meat, whereas people here are traditionally beef-eaters. This Mr. Sokol said would divert more meat into domestic channels and create a competitive condition among cattlemen.

"There is no price incentive for cattle feeders to fatten their beeves in order to deliver choice cuts to the market," he continued. "The ceiling prices guarantee a set price for cattle with the result that it does not pay to raise choice cattle."

To substantiate his argument, Mr. Sokol pointed to the recent four month "moratorium" on certain cuts of meats to Europe. He said this resulted in an oversupply of this meat with the result that in many cases prices dropped below ceiling prices.

This is the first year the Sokols have wintered in Palm Springs, always going to Florida. Henceforth Mrs. Sokol declared they will come to the Colonial House in Palm Springs.

Eric Liebenow Starts Training In Naval Flying

Eric L. Liebenow, son of Mrs. Grace W. Liebenow, of Palm Springs, was recently selected for Officer Training in Naval Aviation. He will begin his training at one of the larger universities on March 1, 1946. He is taking advantage of the finest aviation training now available — an aviation education worth $27,000.

Liebenow graduated from Palm Springs high school, where he was a member of the Spanish club, and active in DeMolay, and Boys' League. He worked his way through high school by working at several part-time jobs. At the present time he is employed by Jerry Sanborn, land surveyor, and will continue there until called to active duty in March.

Further information about the Naval Aviation Preparatory may be obtained from the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board, 411 West Fifth street, Los Angeles.

Interesting Talks Presented at NAA Chapter Meeting

Ethel Sheey, noted woman pilot from Fontana, who has had many years of flying experience behind her, gave members of the Palm Springs chapter of the National Aeronautic association and their guests a highly interesting talk at the group's monthly dinner meeting Tuesday night.

Her husband, Bill Sheehy, also a veteran of the air lanes, also addressed the chapter.

Mrs. Sheehy talked on "Private Flying, Past and Present," while Mr. Sheehy, in recounting some flying experiences, brought out the value to pilots of belonging to an association such as the NAA.

Mrs. Clema Granger, president of the local chapter, presided at the dinner, which was staged at the La Cita cafe.

Navy Withdraws Patrol in Village

The Palm Springs Naval Patrol was withdrawn this week, and the personnel are to be transferred to other stations, it was revealed.

Jimmy Caperrino, S.P. patrolman, who has beat a path up and down Palm Canyon drive, has endeared himself to many of the businessmen and residents of the Village. He was always seen going about his duties with a smile and a kind word for both civilian and military. He has not accumulated enough points or years which would qualify him for a job, but he is looking forward eagerly to the day he can return to Providence, R. I., his home and wife.

TOWN SQUARES TO HAVE WORLD WAR II TROPHY

Four thousand obsolete U. S. guns, howitzers, tanks and other ordnance items soon will be released to communities to replace Civil and World War I trophies donated during the early days of the war to the scrap metal drives.

TELEPHONE PIONEER, EXPECTS RADIOTELEPHONY

Brazil, which established one of the world's first long distance telephone systems, soon after Bell patented his invention in 1876, now plans to be a pioneer in radiotelephone development. The radiotelephone is expected to complete for Brazil the network of communications which it became impossible to expand because of lack of roads.

Gasoline filling stations and electrical appliance stores lead the list of types of business war veterans hope to enter in New York state.

How To Handle Airport Advised By Local NAA

The Palm Springs chapter of the National Aeronautic association respectfully asks the city council, the chamber of commerce and the citizens of Palm Springs to consider its suggestions now. We want disinterested citizens to find out what can be done, how it can be done, and for how much—before it is too late.

The recommendations of the Palm Springs chapter of the National Aeronautic association with regard to civic use of the air base are not mere improvisations.

BASED ON FACTS

They are based on the following:

1. On information received from NAA headquarters in Washington, D. C., which makes available to local chapters their nationwide experience on airport needs and development.

2. On the success of airports in resort areas such as Long Island, N. Y., and Miami Beach, Fla., and in communities such as Blairstown, N. J.

EXAMPLE CITED

3. On the successful reconversion to civilian uses of government operated fields such as the one at Roanoke, Va. The income of this city owned airport was halved when its military training program folded up late in 1944. Operating expenses stayed the same. But with a good business man as city airport manager the field was reorganized to make money. It made even enough money to go in for improvements. Their new income is from the post-war influx of private plane owners, the training of private pilots, the operation of major airlines and of feeder lines. Palm Springs has the same post-war opportunities. Private plane patronage, especially, can be and should be second to none in the country.

Based on such knowledge these are the recommendations that we want you citizens interested in your city's future to think over in the light of this challenging air age.

SUGGEST MEANS

1. Let the airbase be owned and managed by the city under direction of an airport manager to be appointed by the city.

2. Let runways and taxiways for commercial, military, and private use be operated and maintained by the city.

3. Let buildings, hangars, hard stands and other space be leased to the following:

To a university flying school, to commercial airlines, to the government, to private individuals.

READY TO ACT

The Palm Springs NAA wishes to report that specific members stand ready to lease buildings and space for the following purposes:

An airpark to include hangars,

Earl Gibbs Back in Civvies, Plans New Ranch House

Earl E. Gibbs, prominent in civic affairs here for many years, who was recalled to the navy as lieutenant commander two years ago and recently was promoted to commander, is back in comfortable western togs again. He received his discharge from the navy early this month.

With Mrs. Gibbs and family, he is now staying at the Briargate in Banning awaiting completion of his "dream" ranch house on his ranch north of Banning.

Mr. Gibbs says he has found an ideal spot on the ranch in the foothills and is building a ranch house to realize a long-felt ambition.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs plan to be in Palm Springs early in December to spend a month at Smoke Tree ranch.

restaurant, lounging rooms, recreational and athletic facilities, shops, transient living accommodations and possibly permanent living accommodations such as court or hotel.

A flying school for the public, a maintenance and minor repair service shop, a major repair shop, storage, sales and rental hangars, glider demonstration and instruction service, clubhouses for NAA, CAP, and Airscouts.

SOURCE OF REVENUE

That an airport which embodies all these features can be more than self-supporting—an actual source of city revenue in fact—is proven not only by the story of Roanoke, Va., mentioned above, but also by the story of Wichita, Kansas, reported in the Joint Airport Conference proceedings. The methods of securing revenue used by these fields are outlined and discussed in bulletins on file with the local NAA. They are available to you.

For the initial financial outlay, namely purchase of the field, it should be possible for the city to secure assistance through at least one of several sources, (county, state, federal, or CAA).

ON THE AIR MAP

These recommendations would put Palm Springs on the air map. Some elements in the city fought against highways. They are fighting now against airways. Where would Palm Springs be today if we had no paved highways? Where will it be ten years from now if our winter visitors can fly to other resorts in their own planes—but Palm Springs has no airport?

Swimming Stars Visit La Quinta To Put On Show

Miss Virginia Hopkins brought down a contingent of Aqua Stars on Sunday, representing the Hollywood Athletic Club. The scene of the water show was the pool of the luxurious surroundings of the La Quinta Hotel. The program was supplemented by music. The Sunday night cocktail hour followed.

La Quinta Airport was the scene of much activity last Sunday, when Capt. Ted Cate led his Los Angeles Squadron 3 of the Civil Air Patrol in for a landing. Sixteen private planes were in this group, and before returning to Los Angeles, the fliers enjoyed a special luncheon in the La Quinta Hotel patio and a refreshing swim in the pool.

Howard Hughes and party were seen in the La Cantina of the La Quinta Hotel.

George Stevens, famous director, still in the uniform of Lt. Col., and family are sojourning at La Quinta.

Radio announcer, Wendell Niles, Mrs. Niles and their two young sons are enjoying a vacation at La Quinta.

Actor Charlie Grapewin and Mrs. Grapewin are spending a few days relaxing in the sun at La Quinta.

After a week at La Quinta the Walter Wangers (Joan Bennett) and family left La Quinta airport Monday morning in William Goetz's private plane to return to Los Angeles.

General and Mrs. Cousins were overnight guests at La Quinta on their way to Arizona.

An air-conditioned trackless trolley coach is being tested in the transit system of Atlanta, Ga.

Villager Aboard Historic Ship

Waldo L. Griffin, fireman, first class, Palm Springs, was a crew member of the attack transport Bosque as she steamed into Tokyo bay and received a "well done" for efficiency in the occupation of Japan from the commander of the transport squadron.

The Bosque is the Fleet's "Christmas Ship," having been commissioned in San Pedro, Calif., on December 19, 1944. Her ports of call included Pearl Harbor, Eniwetok, Saipan, Guam, Ulithi, Leyte, Hollandia in New Guinea, Noumea in New Caledonia, Manila, Zamboanga, and Kure and Tokyo in Japan.

Colin B. Bragg Among First in Tokyo Bay Entry

Colin B. Bragg, seaman, first class, 447 North Palm Canyon drive, Palm Springs, took a definite part in bringing the war in the Pacific to its close while serving on the attack transport USS Lavaca which carried troops to many strategic places during the final phases of the campaign. After touching almost every port of major importance in the Pacific, the ship climaxed its wartime career by entering Tokyo bay with the occupation forces.

The Lavaca was commissioned December 17, 1944, and crossed the equator eight times during her career in the Pacific. Seaman Bragg is now back in the states.

Calf Roping Event Scheduled Sunday By Village Group

The Calf Roping association, recently formed here, plans an afternoon of fun and excitement next Sunday at the arena at the Araby stables.

The Jack-Pot roping contest will start at 1:30 Sunday afternoon with many prominent Villagers who like to be cowboys on their off days, competing.

The Calf Roping association has Bolly Prebost as president and Joe Butler as vice president. They have a bunch of calves at the Araby stables to be used in their roping contests.

Mannington Back From Army and at Principal's Desk

George Mannington, who relinquished his position as principal of Nellie Coffman school to enter the army 25 months ago, is back on the job at the junior high school.

In between, he saw service in Germany with the 2nd Armored Division after a preliminary training period in Texas and in Georgia. He was a master sergeant in that famous division.

Mrs. Mannington, who went to Texas to be with him, is also back in the Village.

Local Officer Wins Air Medal

Flight Officer Herbert L. Baker, pilot, of 257 Potencio Road, Palm Springs, has been awarded the Air Medal (Oak Leaf Cluster), it has been announced by Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding general of the India China Division, Air Transport Command.

The India China Division is completing, by homeward movements of freight and personnel, its war mission of trans-India, India-China and intra-China transport. It has made air history by flying cargo and passengers in regularly scheduled day-and-night transit over routes once virtually unuseable, primarily the famed Hump.

Noted Netters To Appear Dec. 2 At La Quinta

Featuring many famous netters, an exhibition tennis tourney has been arranged by Jo Sawyer, tennis pro at La Quinta hotel, for Sunday December 2.

Appearing on the courts of the famous hostelry will be Mr. and Mrs. Morey Lewis, Jack McManus, ninth national ranking player, Robin Briscoe, Jane Stanton Gallagher, Paul Lukas, and Pauline Betz, four times national woman's champion.

Attempt to Sell Watch he Found Brings Jail Term

Mortimer Ward, 59, whom San Bernardino police apprehended last November 7, when he attempted to pawn a lady's wrist watch valued at $175., under a "phoney" name, was convicted in Judge Guy Pinney's court last Monday, under section 485 of the penal code, charging that he failed to make an effort to locate the legal owner of the watch.

The watch, it developed, was reported lost May 1, at a local cafe by Miss Jesse Smith, 12th street and Washington ave., Oakland.

Ward who was sentenced to 50 days in the county jail, had the sentence suspended if he would leave Palm Springs and not return for two years, was employed at the cafe here at the time the loss was reported by Miss Smith.

Steve Broidy, Head of Monogram
Films, Vacationing Here, Reveals
Plans for Ambitious Film Program

Steve Broidy, the Horatio Alger boy of moviedom, who rose from that of a film salesman to his present position as the newly-elected president of Monogram Pictures, recited here today at the Colonial House, the ambitious program of his company in which he expects to produce three one million dollar flickers within the next year or so, an unprecedented step for a company of its size.

While he spoke, the man who knew him when he was a film salesman in Boston, the city of his birth, Mr. Herman Rifkin, theater magnate, and the largest common stockholder in Monogram, recalled how he advised Broidy to go to Hollywood and accept the job as general sales manager of this company. Mr. Rifkin is also vice-president of Monogram.

AMBITIOUS PLANS

Steve Broidy said that Monogram prior to the war created a particular niche for itself in the film world and would have taken this pretentious step regardless of World War II, but that it might have taken two more years.

Along with the new program from Monogram, famed Director Roy del Ruth was hired and given autonomous power to select the stories, a free hand in production, and the selection of the cast.

"Mr. Ruth felt that in coming with Monogram his artistic sense and production experience would be given full play in direct contrast to that which he experienced with the major studios," declared Mr. Broidy.

Mr. Broidy said that the trade mark on a picture doesn't matter any more, and that the program of Monogram will succeed equally as well in the production of good entertaining pictures.

"We're going to exploit the market to the fullest extent," asserted Broidy. "We are not just talking about million dollar pictures, but are going to produce them."

He said that the first original has already been purchased, and its adaptation to the screen will cost approximately $51,000. Shooting will start in late February or early March, he declared. The capitalization of the company includes 500,000 shares of common stock of $10 par value, and 100,000 shares of 5½ per cent preferred of $10 par. Both stocks are traded in on the market.

AT COLONIAL HOUSE

Mr. Broidy, his wife, and Mr. Rifkin are guests at the Colonial House, resting and discussing business. They will return to Hollywood this Sunday.

Mr. Rifkin, who is distributor of Monogram films in the six New England states, expects to return to Boston within 10 days.

Cathedral City

By W. R. HILLERY

These notes this week will cover some of the activity on the highway and near it. Starting at the eastern entrance to Cathedral City we have the Sunhaven apartments on one side of the street and the Pines to Palms on the other, then McLearns Knotty Pine where they are building a substantial hollow tile addition to their present structure to house their new eating place. Across the street is Storer's new market, and next to it is Gus Holms' new structure that is not completed, although a portion is now housing his electric shop. Red tape and restrictions made it impossible for Gus to go through with his plan to have a locker plant and the space will be used for some other purposes. Across from Gus is the Cathedral City Motel, operated by the Stevens family, recent arrivals from Oregon, and south and east of the Motel is Wallers Trailer Park that is improved and very attractive.

Coming west, the next structure is Arthur Evans court now under construction next east of the Dempster court which, by the way, has just been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie G. Kelley. East of us is the warehouse of H. W. Dill, which is to be remodeled for a store starting the first of January and the Larrisons will move their cement, pipe and feed business next door where they have their own place under construction. Next to Harry's Poultry market is the group of buildings under construction by Bob Schmidt and Allen Carson for stores. Northwest of them and across the highway is Dr. Al-mace's building nearing completion which will house the cafe of Mr and Mrs. Frank S. Broad-beck. Then the Linkletter building is almost completed. The rest of the businesses on the highway are more or less in structures already built, such as the Chuckwagon Cafe, The Grocery Store, Date Shop, the two service stations, beauty shop, Elly Lounge with Drew's cafe now in operation, Totem Pole Cafe, Arch Court, Wagon Wheel, Desert View Solheim, Ellises DeLuxe Trailer Park, Bluehaven, Silver Sand and Motor Inn courts. Greener's venetian blinds and Allsberry's Cathedral City Fuel business is just off the highway as is Gallinger and Wooden's hollow tile yard. To name the balance of the courts would require more space than is now available.

Stanley Craig is home for sixty days furlough. Walter Colglazier is out of the service for keeps. Herbert Henry, who has long been in the Pacific area, is in process of getting out and we understand that John Cason is scheduled before long.

Mrs. "Stroller" E. J. White and daughter Lenore were visitors this week. Stroller White was the most famous newspaper man in the early days of Alaska and the Yukon. John A. Kuehlborn is here looking after his property. His wife will come back to the desert about the first of the year. Don't miss the special meeting of the chamber of commerce on December 5, at Town hall. Formation of the fire district and other special matters of interest are to come up.

From time to time a few people both here and in Palm Springs have suggested Cathedral City be annexed to Palm Springs. I am wondering if the time has come for annexation. The less we feel able to maintain our village by voluntary effort of our residents, the more we should consider asking some taxing authority to hire the work done. Lately some of us have objected to additional bars or expanded bars already here being permitted to do business here on the grounds that we are unable to cope with the problems that are sure to arise, such as policing to control the action of some of the patrons and to regulate traffic hazards on the highway and the intersecting streets. Palm Springs could do that very easily with its police department. Lately a small additional matter has presented itself. Another angle of sanitation is removal of dead animals or birds from the highway that have been killed by autos. Whose job is it to take care of these matters? Palm Springs, of course, Palm Springs has no problems of its own and is just out looking for grief so that part is settled to the satisfaction of both parties.

Of course we could struggle along and at least keep our place clean and sanitary by our own efforts individually. Some of us have buried many jackrabbits, some dogs and cats, but no children in vacant lots, that have met their end on the highway. Some of us have raked surplus rocks and trash from the street beyond our own lot boundaries, and have done other chores that apparently would not be done if we didn't do it. The idea is still good for the residents of a little village like our own.

The park committee, consisting of Prof. Kyle, Ben Scott and Slim Larrison have been making a study of the possibilities of this newly acquired 2½ acres, and will shortly report their findings. This is a matter that all citizens should be interested in.

Wonder how many here have read Willard Price's new book, "Japan and the Son of Heaven." While the argument rages about what to do with Hiro, kiss 'em or kick 'em, you might be able to form a very good idea as to the policy we should pursue in Japan if you read this interesting book. On the request of Col. Charles J. Perry, stationed near Manila and of Jack Hillery, also

Latin-American
Rhythm Features
Tennis Club Week

Last Friday evening at the Tennis club many members and their guests had an enjoyable, as well as instructive, time at the first class lesson in rhumba, samba and other new dance steps to be conducted weekly by Roy Randolph and his assistants.

Among those enjoying the rhythm and the fun were Mr. and Mrs. Elton MacDonald, Colonel and Mrs. Russ, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gable of Hollywood, Miss Sandra Shearer, Miss Helene Hanbury and Lt. Richard Heise, Mr. and Mrs. John Chaffey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marcato and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cordrey, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Norie from Smoke Tree, and many other lovers of Latin rhythm.

An even larger class is expected next week when Mr. Randolph will again guide Tennis club members and their friends through the steps and fun.

Mrs. F. F. Scowden entertained several groups of guests at the club last week, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lamb of Beverly Hills, Miss Margaret Hart entertained Kirk Abbott of Natal, Brazil, at the club, also, Lt. and Mrs. Richard Baruch, former residents of Lake Arrowhead, enjoyed tennis and swimming at the Tennis Club this week. Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Hummer of Beverly Hills were guests of the Tennis club recently.

Jack McManis and John Howard, both nationally known tennis players, put on an exciting three-set exhibition last week at the Tennis club for an appreciative audience of members and guests. Another nationally known ranking star, Pauline Betz, dropped in for a few hours at the club this week.

COMPLETING NEW ELECTRIC SHOP

Construction of Gus Holms' new electric shop in Cathedral City is rapidly nearing completion. It will be operated under the name of Cathedral City Electric and Appliance shop.

The building, constructed of cement tile, is two stories in height and covers an area of 40 x 50 feet. There will be two apartments on the upper floor.

Mr. Holm is one of the first men in the country to build home freezers, and been an expert in refrigeration the past 25 years. He has built many food locker plants.

HOME FREEZERS

Chicago's first postwar apartment building, now under construction, will have eighty electrical home freezer units in the basement for the tenants.

Police Descend on Tent, Nab Six for Dabbling in Poker

The acute housing situation in Palm Springs took a novel twist last Thursday night—and this time it wasn't because no one had a place to lay the weary bones.

Thomas Wycliffe, negro, despaired of finding a decent house, and at the same time one well hidden from the prying eyes of the local police department, pitched a tent way out on the reservation and was open for business — gambling business, according to Police Chief August Kettman.

The gambling tent, raided Thursday night at 9 P. M. netted five poker players including Thomas, Anthony C. Petrillo, 282 Atholl St., C. B. Hendrix and Octave Guidry, who gave their address as Indian Reservation, and Alvin Placide, 100 Indian Ave.

The raid led by Police Chief Kettman also included police Sergeant Stanley Ehler, Patrol Officer Jack Phiel, Anthony Torro, Indian reservation officer.

All pleaded guilty in Guy Pinney's court Monday morning. Thomas was fined $100. The others received a similar sentence but $90 of the fine was suspended.

New Pilot Comes To Town, Thomas Granger Arrives

There's a new pilot in town. Also a Thanksgiving baby. Last Thursday morning, Thanksgiving day, a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Granger, at Riverside Community hospital. The boy weighed seven pounds, ten ounces.

He has been named Thomas Earl Granger.

His father is a well known aviation enthusiast and operator of the Rancho Mirage air strip.

His grandmother, Mrs. Clema Granger, is president of the Palm Springs chapter of the National Aeronautic association.

Art Club Being Organized Here

Developing from the quick sketch class held every Friday evening at the Gordon Courts art gallery, a Palm Springs art club is now in formation. Plans for organization have not yet been completed, but all artists interested are requested to contact Mrs. Jeanne Courts Knight, 257 South Patencio Road. Active in the new organization are many prominent local artists.

The attractive face above belongs to Lowie Stagg . . . popular Palm Springs actor for eight seasons, and associated with the Strobe theatres most of that time . . . She's that charming gal who extends her cheery "good evening" at the door to all who invade one of our local cinemas . . . She's also that well-clad woman who is known for her good-looking clothes. Two important things are in line for Lowie at present . . . 1 . . . A month's vacation, to be spent right here, just to see how the other half lives for a change . . . 2 . . . the return of a certain man who has been overseas. "Likes" include . . . the theatre . . . her home and garden, and Palm Springs . . . Pet peeve is kiddies who claim they want to get into the show free to look for their mamas, and somehow fail to find them or come back out again . . . Secret ambition . . . to see a movie . . . she's seen three in the last year.

Letters to the Editor

WANTS SIDEWALKS

Editor, The Desert Sun:
I have been in Palm Springs for vacation several times during the past few years to enjoy the fall and winter sunshine.

Perhaps the local authorities become accustomed to things as they are and do not realize how visitors look at them. I am paying very high rates for living accommodations. The service at the place where I am staying is satisfactory but the lack of sidewalks on Palm Canyon drive is deplorable. Perhaps during the war this could not be remedied but from now on, there is no excuse for not providing cement sidewalks where they do not now exist, between Ramon Road and the business district, on both sides of Palm Canyon drive. Also on some of the streets running off of Palm Canyon drive. The city authorities should realize that visitors endure these dirt sidewalks but they do not enjoy them.

A cement sidewalk 6 feet wide and 4 inches deep is not prohibitive in cost. Either the property owners, including vacant lots, along Palm Canyon drive in the city of Palm Springs, whichever is responsible, should have these

40 et 8 Group To Meet Monday

Several Village veterans, members of the 40 et 8, fun organization of the American Legion, plan to attend a dinner of the 40 et 8 at Corona next Monday evening. Going from here, according to present plans, will be Gordon Feehings, Joe Omlin, Art Wills, Charley St. George, and J. K. Jerry Sanborn.

cement sidewalks placed promptly. I am tired of trudging through these dirty and dusty sidewalks several times each day and others are also tired.

When we come to Palm Springs we pay very liberally for living accommodations and meals and we are entitled to clean and safe places to walk along the main streets.

I hope your newspaper will give this a lot of publicity and if necessary start a campaign to have these sidewalks provided.

Yours truly,
A Visitor.

Large Gathering Greets Gymkhana at the B-Bar-H

The first of the season's Gymkhanas staged Sunday afternoon by the B-Bar-H Ranch brought a large turnout of both contestants and spectators. The grand entry, led by Mrs. Jay Kasler, wife of the owner of the popular resort, Billy Parker, ranch foreman, and Louise Gillis, Manager, was immediately followed by thrilling and fast-moving events. Allen Ross of Los Angeles handled the announcing department in his usual expert manner, and was assisted by Harry Merrill of Thousand Palms and Chuck Mosely, Palm Springs, who acted as Judges. Screen Actor Peter Lorre, now stopping at B-Bar-H, was given honorary title of arena director for the event.

WHERE PRIZES WENT

The prize money for the various events was captured as follows: Matched Pairs won by Joe Kirk and Anne James; Boot Race won by Billy Parker; first prize in Calf Roping went to Buck Mason, second prize to Carlton Grimes and third prize to Zeke Reed. The Stake Race was won by Carl Davidson, Musical Chairs by Tokyo Kuhl, and the Team Tying prizes went to Carlton Grimes and Glenn Bowen as first winners and Ed Davis and Tony Silvers second. The winner of the Rescue Race was Carlton Grimes.

A feature of the program was the presentation of "Serrano," the World's Best Educated Horse, owned and exhibited by Mr. Clint Brush of Fullerton. Serrano captivated the spectators with his amazing feats in spelling, multiplication and mind reading.

HOLIDAY DINNER

The Los Compadres Riders, who always add color and interest to Gymkhana events staged in the Palm Springs area, lived up to their fine reputation for good riding and sportsmanship.

Thanksgiving dinner at the B-Bar-H was served at candle-lit tables, the main board being graced with a huge fruit-filled cornucopia. Among the diners were a party consisting of Phil Harris, Alice Faye, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lorre and Mr. Don Siegel—all guests at the ranch this past week. Following dinner the guests were entertained with a Western dance, the Desert Rhythm Makers furnishing the music.

29 Palms to Get Rate Reduction

Residents of Twenty-nine Palms will receive a reduction of $10,000 annually, in the over-all cost of their electric power beginning December 15 next, according to an announcement today by L. Harold Anderson, President of the California Railroad commission.

Anderson reported that the California Electric Power company, which purchased the Leonard T. Wikoff Electric Light and Power company a year ago, has filed with the commission new and lower tariffs applying to Twenty-nine Palms and the district between there and Garnet.

The rate reduction was brought about through the California Electric Power Company being enabled to tie in its high line facilities with the local distribution system.

New 1946 Buicks Being Displayed By Village Dealer

Buick's first post-war cars, the new models for 1946, are now being placed on exhibition by Desert Inn Garage, local Buick dealer at Palm Springs.

Three lines of eight-cylinder cars are being introduced—Series 50 Super on 124-in. wheelbase, Series 70 Roadmaster on 129-in. wheelbase, and Series 40 Special on 121-in. wheelbase. All incorporate important changes in appearance, design, and performance as compared with the similarly numbered models of 1942—the latest to be introduced prior to the war.

First off the line and first to be shown are the Series 50 Super cars made in four-door sedan, two-door sedan, convertible coupe, and estate wagon styles each having six-passenger capacity. The four-door sedan and the estate wagon are now in production with other body styles to follow shortly.

NEW STYLING

Material advances in styling as well as functional design are immediately apparent in the new Buicks. An entirely new grille not only adds massiveness to the front but due to its construction provides improved air flow. All external surfaces of the new grille are capped with chrome-plated stainless steel.

Front appearance is further enhanced by a new "aiming ring" radiator ornament, new and heavier bumper design, new bumper guards and series designation. Flashway direction signals and parking lights are of larger size. The fender has been remodeled to give a true contour which is extended through the door panel on all models.

ENGINE IMPROVEMENTS

The Buick valve-in-head Fireball engine introduced in 1941 is continued with many important refinements. In this engine Buick engineers have taken full advantage of the fundamental qualities of the valve-in-head design which permits, because of its dome-shaped head, the closest possible approach to the ideal form of combustion chamber, the sphere.

In the Fireball engine the piston head has been shaped with a mound on one side and a depression on the other. In this way, at the instant of explosion the charge is compressed into the approximate shape of a ball while at the same time the piston is provided with adequate metal surface to carry off excess heat, thus preventing ping or detonation.

FOR EASY RIDING

Buick's all-welded, rigid, one-piece unit frame is continued as is also the torque-tube drive and all-coil spring suspension. With the torque-tube drive all driving thrust is through the tube, leaving the springs devoted entirely to suspension.

Wide rim wheels which contributed materially to the stability and handling qualities of the 1942 cars are continued in the new models while optional 18 x 6.50 wheels and tires and high springs are available to owners who require higher road clearance.

A new one-piece molded accelerator pedal with a steel insert is used, eliminating the former metal hinge. Major changes have also been made in the construction and the controls of the car heating and ventilating equipment. Fresh air intake scoops mounted at the front behind the grille have been increased in size and provided with fine mesh screens, while conduits from the scoops to the valves are now of all metal construction providing unrestricted air flow.

The valve which controls the flow of fresh air to the heater and the thermostat which controls the flow of hot water to the heater are now operated by separate buttons mounted below the instrument panel. A third button controls fresh air intake for summer ventilation.

Many improvements are to be noted in the accessories. Experience during the war has led to the development of a superior storage battery plate compound which has been adopted, resulting in better performance. In addition the battery has been further improved with improved sealing and new ventilated filler cap. Other features of the Buick electrical system including high output generator with voltage and current regulation, automatic spark advance, sealed beam headlights, flashway direction signaling and dual air trumpet type horns are all continued without change.

A new bumper jack has been developed with the lifting bracket so designed as to straddle the bumper bar thereby preventing any tendency to slide sideways when in use. The front and rear bumper bars have been made of deeper section to prevent excessive deflection when the bumper jacks are used. The bumpers have also been enhanced in appearance by widely spaced guards and a newly designed tie bar carrying an ornamental plate with the series designation. Bumpers are the wrap-around type for full fender protection.

Final Meeting On Children's Books Tuesday

Final meeting of the Parents' workshop on children's literature arranged by the guidance department of the Desert school district will be held on Tuesday, December 4, from 10 to 11 a.m., in the district office, 538 North Palm Canyon drive. Books of interest to children from kindergarten through the eighth grade will be on display, mainly book sets and volumes for reference.

The general theme of how books can aid in developing a philosophy of living has prevailed throughout the series. Reading material which emphasizes different moods and characteristics such as courage, sympathy, good sense, fairness, cooperativeness, and honesty was mentioned Tuesday. "The love of literature cannot be taught, it must be caught," was brought out, along with the fact that children need a good place to read as well as good books. The discussion is being led by Mrs. Yula Moore, head of the guidance department for the district.

Joe: "What do you want here? I fired you last week!"

Office boy: "Yes, I know. I just came back to see if you were still in business."

Air Base Group Plans Big Dance

Officers of the local Army Air Field, their wives and guests are planning to attend a dinner and dance at the Colonial House tomorrow night, it was revealed today. It will be the first affair of this kind since the reduction in manpower took place at the local airport. Wilbur P. Davis, manager, said that in the special section reserved for the officers, decorations will be in harmony with the occasion and flowers of the fall variety will decorate the tables. A special menu is being arranged for the group under the personal supervision of Mr. Davis. Jules and Webb will entertain at the party and regale the crowd with a brand new bag of tricks in mind reading, the audience participating.

Rumor of Crashed Plane Found False

Lots of excitement but nothing to be excited about.

That was the case last Saturday when it was reported that an airplane had crashed between San Jacinto and Tahquitz peaks. A thorough search of the area was fruitless and all points contacted said that no planes were missing.

C. S. Henderson Claims Village Beats 'Em All

Charles Henderson, manager of Sunshine Court, is back in Palm Springs—just soaking up the sun after more than a month in Loma Linda following a major operation.

Mr. Henderson, fully recovered, returned to the Village Monday night.

Tuesday he spent just parading in the sunshine.

"Boy, it feels good after that overcast every day until almost noon. I was always strong for Palm Springs but after a month away—I'm stronger than ever."

Mrs. Henderson took care of the Court while Mr. Henderson was in the hospital.

Dean Thomas Now At Araby Stables

Dean Thomas, back in the Village with an honorable discharge after three and a half years overseas service in the army, is now managing Araby-Palm Springs stables. Prior to his military service Thomas was connected with various guest ranches nearby.

Bill Wilson, owner of the popular stables, has been home on furlough but is returning soon to his base. Bill is hoping to receive his discharge soon and plans to return to Palm Springs.

New Shoe Store Opens Tomorrow

Opening of Dobby's Casual shoe shop has been set for Saturday, December 1, it is announced by owner, Henry Dobkins. The attractive new shop is located at 435 North Palm Canyon drive.

The same outstanding lines offered in Dobby's Beverly Hills shop will be available to Villagers, including complete lines of ladies and misses wear and infants and childrens shoes.

The local shop will be managed by Miss Dorothy Dobkins, who, as a registered nurse in a large New York hospital, specialized in correct footwear for youngsters.

Woman, Stricken In Post Office, Fails to Survive

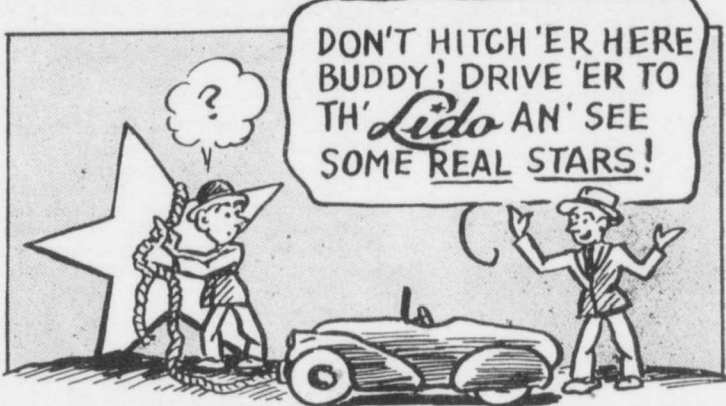

Miss Virginia Moreland, 50, who collapsed in the lobby of the post office here last Sunday and to whose side Dr. James E. Potter was rushed by Police Sergeant Orest Johnson, to administer emergency treatment, was reported dead Monday morning at 6 A. M. by the Community Hospital, Riverside to which she was removed. Cause of death was attributed to heart failure. Miss Moreland was living at the Desert Trailer Village here.

Before Your Eyes
By BILL RASHALL

The mind, like a book, records each page and chapter of one's experience, it is said, but weaves a web of forgetfulness over unpleasant and distasteful incidents. Otherwise please tell, how Kent Clark, pianist at the Pogo Pogo, formerly with the Copacabanna in Manhattan, can play with such utter abandon, so gaily, as to make his audience forget their steaks and listen attentively. He underwent the harrowing experience of having the aircraft carrier Wasp, on which he served, sink under his feet — adrift for days clinging to a raft before he was rescued and witnessed other awful sights. He is as familiar with his piano as a baby is with its crib.

Some of the participants called it a "Boston Tea Party" with champagne "going" overboard, and those who called it a "clam" bake were equally as wrong because nobody acted like he would ever "clam-up" until the last word was exhausted and the last toast was quaffed. It all happened in the dining room of the Colonial House, and the topic of conversation was school days. School days, of all things! They all acted like kids at a football rally. Present was Sidney Lanfield, director at Paramount; Johnny Myer, right hand bower of Howard Hughes; Charley Farrell, Herman Rifkin, theater magnate; Ervino Sokol, meat packer; Steve Brody, president of Monogram; and Wilbur P. Davis. All are "dyed-in-the-wool" of clams, beans, and Boston. Nearly all of them attended the same schools.

It was not studied carelessness of dress by Walt Disney whom Lady Tedder dreamed of meeting and did. He didn't have time in which to properly ready himself before she and her husband arrived at the local airport the other day. This Walt is one swell guy—you can invite him into your kitchen when you've forgotten to put your shoes on.

Charley Foy of Mr. Dee's, and Phil Harris, telling their hundreds of friends not to tell a soul about their new business venture in Hollywood as partners. Somebody said women dress to create envy in other women. Actors, when the last word is said, fear the criticism of their fellow artists far more than that of the audience. Which leads me to reporting the remark of one actor about another: "Charley Foy is really an artist—the best" Take a bow, Charley. It comes from one of your profession.

If you want a painless "shot-in-the-arm" to make you see Palm Springs through rose-colored glasses meet Harry Harper, executive secretary of the local chamber. Unlike most "chambermen" he believes his own sales talk—he is building a home here.

The modern Svengali of Palm Canyon drive can be found any night at the Dunes. Standing within visual distance of his singing wife, Connie Barbeau, "Ruby," her husband, uses the same technique he used when leading an orchestra at the old Dunes. Involuntarily he silently forms the words of each song as she warbles. He gives with the hands when she is too high or low, etc. But why? She has a lot more than most night club singers and she gives so beautifully. It was the first time I have ever seen hungry diners forget their provender. Connie's pianist, Fred Witmer, floods the room with his melodic tunes. In a coast to coast radio broadcast, Fred Fisher had this to say about him: "Although I've seen him perform, I've had fifty prominent film stars rave about his sensational performances at the Dunes club in Palm Springs. He is said to be a playing sensation. Handsome enough for the movies, talented enough to top Cavallaro and plenty entertaining. What a combination he and Connie make! And Svengali . . ."

Rochelle Hudson, a beautiful waif on the screen, munching a nutburger in the Garden Dining room of the Royal Palms and remembering memories with Harry Peale.

Just like Phat, who after dining at one of the local cafes, found to his horror—no wallet. George Brent at Mr. Dees was also mortified in a similar situation but he had his check book with him; but poor Phat—no one knows if he even had a check book.

Toasting each other in champagne Dr. M. M. Bushan and Steve Brody on their anniversaries in the dining room of the Colonial House with Brody quipping that although the good doctor was celebrating his 18th wedding birthday and he his 15th, they were both fathers of three children despite the three year start Dr. Bushan had.

Showing the "spots" to their guest, Mrs. K. C. Heath, and taking in the show at Mr. Dees where they doubled over at the antics of "Frisco" were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Spencer. Mrs. Heath is the wife of Kenneth Heath, California plastic king.

Bernard Amoiné, socialite man about town lapsing into his mother tongue of French as animatedly as only Frenchmen can when fine cookery, liquors and wines are the subject. Seated at the table with him were Merta de Germond, Etienne Geraud, nephew of the famous general and Victor Cavalier, chef at the Pogo Pogo.

Victor Young and his wife were hiding from friends in Hollywood. He was resting at the Royal Palms hotel. He wrote all of the music for "Love Letters," and is composing currently for "To Each His Own," starring Olivia De Havilland. "Having a good rest and lots of sleep," he said. "Going to spend Christmas here, too."

Los Compadres Plan Breakfast Ride on Sunday

Andreas canyon will be the goal for Los Compadres club members in a breakfast ride Sunday morning, President Kenny Paul of the club, said this week. Members are urged to leave the stables at 7 a.m. to be on time for the breakfast.

"It's a long ride," warned Secretary Jimmy Cooper. "The chuck wagon will be waiting. Now that rationing is off, please don't even mention points."

Why Is There a Desert Here?

We have discovered that in order for a region to be classified as a desert, it must have (1) less than eleven inches of rain per year, (2) rapid surface evaporation of this rain back into the atmosphere, (3) high day temperatures, falling rapidly at night, and (4) most of its meagre rain received during the hot summer months. The altitude or type of soil are not the deciding factors.

The perennial question next crops up: Then why is Palm Springs a desert? Why doesn't it have MORE rain each year?

MUST SEEK HISTORY

To answer this inquiry, we must seek the history of a desert, to see how it developed through the past ages. Geologists are somewhat in disagreement about the age of some of our great deserts. They say that the Great Sahara, for instance, has been a desert off and on for over 200 million years! That's a tremendously long time for one region to be arid. Our own Colorado and Mojave Deserts, however, present geological evidence that they are much more recent, and that their age can be reckoned in perhaps thousands of years, not millions. At any rate, not too long ago a great sea lay over both regions, and during the last portions of the great Ice Ages, when the mighty glaciers were receding, the sea had vanished and the land had become more or less temperate in climate. We know this because paleontologists have unearthed the bones of such animals as the bison, mastodon, wild horse, camel, ground sloth, giant wolf, and sabre-toothed tiger, animals that normally would not be found inhabiting the arid climate that prevails over Southern California today.

NOT PRESENT THEN

At that remote time, say a million years ago, there were no mountain ranges to the west, no majestic San Jacinto peak, no string of Santa Rosa mountains down toward the Gulf. No, these mountain ranges that we take for granted now, are all of comparatively recent origin. Then suddenly there commenced great disastrophic movements of the crust up and down the entire length of the Pacific Coast. Earthquakes the like of which no mortal has ever witnessed, shook the ground. Huge crevasses opened up and were in turn filled with detritus. Unbelievable movements took place along the active fault lines, as the bedrock shifted its balance. Some areas were elevated to great heights; others sank below sea level.

Gradually a long chain of mountains, stretching from Canada clear down into Mexico, were being thrust up to the west as barriers, shutting off the broad Pacific. Higher and higher they rose, the Sierras west of the Mojave, and the San Jacinto's and Santa Rosa's west of the Colorado desert. As these barriers jutted up, other great changes were being wrought on the cut-off plains areas sloping away to the south and east, plains areas that formerly had rather humid climates and copious rainfall.

CUT-OFF PRECIPITATION

Cool air holds moisture longer than warm air, for heat speeds evaporation; and all moisture in air is ultimately derived from the seas. In the case of the Mojave and Colorado Desert areas, practically all their rain had been derived from the rain clouds sailing in from the Pacific, from the west to the east. Before the mountains were elevated, there was nothing to impede this cloud movement. But now that these high ranges intervened, something radical happened.

The cool rain clouds, heavily laden with moisture, swept in off the Pacific as usual, and reaching the mountain barriers, rose gradually to surmount them. However, when air rises, it becomes colder, and by the time these clouds had attained an altitude of over 10,000 feet and started to descend had become so cold and so compressed that they could no longer retain their load of water. As a result, copious rains fell on the western side of the ranges, and by the time the clouds had scooted on over the top, they were nearly devoid of moisture. In descending to a lower altitude, they became warmed again; because of this increase in temperature, what little dampness still remained was very soon dissipated by evaporation. Therefore, no rain reached the lee side of the mountains; it had all been lost in trying to climb over the mountain barrier.

DESERTS SIMILAR

Most of the deserts of the world share the common feature of some sort of barrier which deprives them of rainfall they would ordinarily receive. High mountains will usually constitute such obstacles, and in the case of the very arid Chilean Peruvian desert, it is the contiguous cold ocean current that robs that area of its greatly needed moisture. In fact, so arid is this South American desert that at Iquique, on the coast of northern Chile, absolutely no rain fell for four years straight!

Most deserts, too, are located in wide shallow basins. Our Colorado Desert lies in a huge basin once occupied by ancient Lake Cahuilla. Desert rivers, if present at all, flow into the centers of these basins, and having no outlets, are lost by evaporation or persist as alkaline lakes. Many of them run most of their course underground. Notable examples of arid inland lakes are the Dead Sea, Lake Eyre in Australia, and of course the Salton Sea of the Colorado Desert. Partially subterranean rivers include the Mojave and the Whitewater Rivers. Erosion both by water and wind is common throughout desert regions. Falling rain and the resultant sheet-floods are continually plucking away soil from higher elevations and transporting them to lower ones. This tends to level the region, to reduce the hills and to fill up the depressions. The wind is a constant partner in this task, and because of the resulting low basins, can sweep more powerfully over wide expanses unchecked, thereby speeding up the entire process.

DETERS VEGETATION

This never-ending denuding of the top soil constitutes a grave problem to desert plants, and they must adapt themselves to such severe conditions in order to survive. The same is true of the desert animals who have chosen the desert as their home. It is a perpetual battle of survival, with only the hardiest persisting.

Now that we know fairly well the what and why of our deserts, in next week's column we'll answer the question of WHERE. Nearly twenty per cent of the earth's land is of an arid nature. Just where are these deserts located, and how are they similar to or how do they differ from our own Mojave and Colorado Deserts?

Christian Science Text Denounces Mesmerism

The Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson, Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, is from Isaiah and reads: "How hath the oppressor ceased! . . . The Lord hath broken the staff of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers." "Ancient and Modern Mesmerism, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject.

An account from Matthew relates that there was brought to Jesus "one possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, inasmuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw. . . . But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils. And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; . . . And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand? . . . But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you."

"Error will not expel error," says Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." And she adds, "Christian Science is the law of Truth, which heals the sick on the basis of the one Mind or God." "We classify disease as error, which nothing but Truth or Mind can heal, and this Mind must be divine, not human."

Plans for Enlarged Church to be Topic

Plans for a new church edifice for Community Church will be set in motion next Tuesday evening at a special meeting of the church board.

Because of the increasing attendance and growing activity of Community church, present quarters are rapidly becoming too small.

Christmas Plans Set In Motion at Community Church

Christmas plans are under way at Community church under various committee heads.

Under direction of Mrs. Holly Lash Visel, musical director of the church, rehearsals are in full swing for the annual Christmas pageant in which all choirs of the church will take part.

The pageant will be presented Sunday evening, December 23.

Mrs. Bernice Schmidt, director of young people's work, is mapping the itinerary of the Christmas Carolers. They will make the rounds of the Village bringing cheer on Christmas Eve to shut-ins and the lonely.

Mrs. Schmidt has asked names and addresses of any homes where such a visit would be appreciated.

Bible Readings For Next Week Announced Today

"Never in our nation's history have so many people read the Bible as between Thanksgiving and Christmas last year," said Dr. J. R. Macartney, pastor of Community church, this week. "The suggestion originated with the American Bible society and was that the armed forces and the people at home read simultaneously for the 33 days following Thanksgiving, favorite chapters chosen by a poll of chaplains and pastors."

"The success of the program encouraged the Bible society to prompt an even more ambitious program this year. The new project has been entitled the 'World Wide Bible Reading,' and the theme chosen for the campaign slogan is 'Marching Orders for a New Day.'"

"Several months ago the chaplains cooperated with the Bible society in polling the men in their units to secure their own and their men's favorite scripture passages for the 34 daily readings for the year. The selections have been tabulated."

For next week the following have been chosen:
Friday, November 30, James 1.
Saturday, December 1, Ephesians 6.
Sunday, December 2, 1 Corinthians 13.
Monday, December 3, Psalm 24.
Tuesday, December 4, Hebrews 11 and 12:1, 2.
Wednesday, December 5, Matthew 6.
Thursday, December 6, Romans 8.
Friday, December 7, Matthew 7.
Saturday, December 8, Psalm 91.

Fourth of Bible Question to be Asked on Sunday

Number four in the series of sermons being presented on the Great Questions asked in the Bible by Dr. J. R. Macartney, "Wilt Thou Go With This Man?" will be presented Sunday morning at Community church.

"It is the question put to every woman entering marriage," said Dr. Macartney. "In view of the mounting number of marriages going on to the rocks, this question is of vast importance."

At the 7:30 service Sunday evening the Chapel choir will be heard and a special motion picture, "On Sacred Soil With the Master of Men," will be shown.

The Rev. Robert Noles, former assistant to Dr. Macartney, was guest speaker last Sunday at both morning and evening services. He addressed the young people at the 5:30 service, too. Rev. Noles is located in Los Angeles and during the week end was guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Noles here.

Encouraging Progress Being Made in American Legion Campaign for Memorial Building Fund is Report

From Campaign Headquarters in the American Legion Dugout, comes the report that encouraging progress is being made in the drive for funds for the proposed Palm Springs World Wars Memorial Building.

The second scheduled report on subscriptions to the $75,000 Building Fund will be made at the regular membership meeting of Owen Coffman Post No. 519 of the American Legion at the Desert Inn Fiesta House, next Tuesday evening, December 4.

RESPONSE GENEROUS

Gordon Feehings, chairman of the Legion sponsored campaign, said that he is finding that the public response to the appeal is both prompt and generous when full facts are understood about what the Memorial Building will mean to the veterans and the community.

"In addition to providing a living memorial as a testimony of a grateful community to the sacrifices made by the veterans of two World Wars," pointed out Feehings, "the only purpose of the memorial will be to serve the veteran and the community."

REVIEW FACTS

"At this time," continued Feehings, "it might be well to review a few quick facts about the Legion's program to secure the utmost in community service from veterans of World War II. An essential part of today's Legion work, is the assembling of younger veterans, guiding them in the Legion program of true and fundamental Americanism, giving them a chance to meet their buddies under decent conditions, showing them the gratitude of their community for the sacrifices made and assuring them of the friendly cooperation which they can expect in Palm Springs—vital in this program is the proposed Memorial Home."

The Veterans' Memorial, as planned, will provide ample auditorium space for all veteran gatherings, as well as certain community activities. There will be a lounge and reading room, game room, snack bar, and Legion Auxiliary accommodations.

AID TO VETERANS

But most important of all in the opinion of Legion leaders, is that proper administrative headquarters will be provided for, giving veterans accurate data and skillful guidance on the securing of quick and just action on any claims of disability, compensation and other things guaranteed them under State and Federal laws.

Whether the memorial will be built on the site already acquired for the purpose, or located on the Torney General Hospital grounds, if acquired for community use, has been left for future determination by the Memorial Building committee, but it is pointed out that adequate financing will be needed in any event.

Loyalty, Topic of Rev. Hogarth at Episcopal Church

St. Paul's in the Desert, Episcopal church, will observe next Sunday, December 2, as nationwide Corporate Communion for men and boys. Holy Communion will be celebrated at both the 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. services.

The Rev. Robert M. Hogarth will preach on the subject: "No Loyalty Without Love."

December 9, the second Sunday in Advent, is Bible Sunday and Rev. Hogarth's topic will be "Christianity, a Religion of One Book."

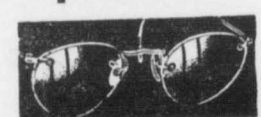

40 Enjoy Supper Session of C.E. Sunday Evening

Approximately forty young people of the Village attended the Fellowship supper meeting of the Christian Endeavor society last Sunday evening at Community church. The nautical motif featured the supper with miniature sailboats and hurricane lamps. The theme was the "S. S. Fellowship."

Bob Eckert, president of the C.E., presided as captain of the voyage, and introduced the speaker, Bob Noles, who talked on "God's Compass." Mrs. Holly Lash Visel was heard in piano numbers and Cpl. and Mrs. George Slayton were heard in a special duet, "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me." A delicious dinner was served by the hostess of the evening, Mrs. Faye Robinson, assisted by Mrs. Violet Fowler and Mrs. E. Markham.

If you persist in driving with your mind in the clouds you are due to find a permanent home there.

Visiting Medical Men Return Home

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Greenberg of Stockton, are returning to their home in Stockton after a vacation in Palm Springs, spent at the Pepper Tree.

They are close friends of Dr. and Mrs. S. D. Greenlee, 310 Tamarisk road, who are going to their home in San Francisco for a brief stay after two and one half months in the Village.

Works by Day, Aids Canteen in Midnight Shift

Mrs. J. B. Browning has joined the Red Cross canteen service at the army air base where Villagers are providing coffee and doughnuts to servicemen returning by ATC planes from Pacific war duty and where liberated prisoners of the Japs see their first glimpse of home. She has taken one of the difficult shifts—from midnight to 4 a.m.

The wife of a veteran, she works during the day here and serves at the canteen at night.

An average of 22 planes a day land at the local port.

Councilman Walter Z. Allen, well known local realtor, is back on the job again after being laid low for a few days by illness.

Union Pacific To Expand Facilities
To Meet Increases

Foreseeing heavy increases in passenger traffic and commercial freight, Union Pacific has ordered $24,000,000 worth of new equipment, and, in addition, bids have been requested for 100 passenger cars, it has been disclosed by W. H. Guild, executive assistant to President W. M. Jeffers of the Union Pacific railroad.

The new equipment on order includes 1,000 box cars costing $3,625,000; and 500 automobile cars at an estimated cost of $2,100,000. Delivery on these will be completed by January.

ORDER NEW ENGINES

Twenty-nine Diesel switch engines will be delivered within the next 90 days as a part of a $3,175,000 order for 40 of the engines, of which eleven already have been received.

Thirteen 2,000-horsepower Diesel passenger engines are on order for delivery in March at a cost of $2,200,000; and also for delivery next month is a 6,000-horsepower Diesel freight engine costing $585,000.

BUY NEW RAIL

New rail amounting to 132,000 tons will cost $5,885,000 and will be delivered in 1946. With this will come $3,672,000 worth of rail fittings, such as tie plates, frogs, joint bars, anchors and switches.

Two million new ties are also scheduled for delivery at a cost of $2,500,000.

It was announced that the railroad has spent $414,000,000 since 1939 to take care of increased traffic due to the war.

Mother of Star
Weds Bostonian
In Palm Springs

With the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth, vicar of St. Paul's in the Desert, Episcopal church here, as one of the officiants, Mrs. Ruth FAVOR Davis, mother of Bette Davis, Warner Brothers film star, was married Sunday to Robert Woodbury Palmer, Boston business man.

Bette Davis, screen star, who herself was married today at Laguna Beach, was matron of honor. About 150 guests attended the ceremony. Lt. Peck Woodbury, U.S.N., was best man.

The marriage rites were performed by three clergymen: Rev. Dr. Paul FAVOR of Laguna Beach, a brother of the bride; Rev. Francis C. Ellis, First Congregational Church, Riverside, and Rev. Hogarth.

The scene of the ceremony was the Smoke Tree Ranch, where the bridegroom lives while in the West. After a reception, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer left for a honeymoon at Coronado. They plan to return to the ranch for the winter.

Taxes Delinquent
After Next Monday

Next Monday is another one of those bad days.

It's the deadline for payment of first installment of city and county taxes which will become delinquent after that date and assume penalties, Miss V. M. Hyde, county treasurer, warned.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bernon of Cleveland, Ohio, have come to Palm Springs for the winter. They are visiting their daughter, Mrs. N. Pavy, and Mrs. Kronenberg. The Bernons arrived in time for the Thanksgiving festivities.

FROM TEE TO GREEN

Notes From the O'Donnell Golf Course

Once again the long awaited shot, HOLE-in-ONE, was made by Howard E. Richmond, Seattle, Washington. Using a number 6 iron, on the 120-yard fifth hole, he made this perfect shot. His opponent, L. E. Langdon assured us that it was a costly shot, financially.

Some of our winter guests enjoying a round of golf: John Sweaney and daughter, Cleve; M. O. Anderson, and U. M. Dickey, Seattle; Sol Lesser, Los Angeles; B. F. Shearer, Carl Haymond, J. E. French, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Caulkins, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lafleur, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Duttenhofer, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mueller, V. E. Studebaker, Tacoma; L. R. O'Donnell, Palm Springs; Lynn Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. S. Greenfield, Chicago; Dr. B. Kavanaugh, Los Angeles; W. A. Pries, Alaska; Karl B. Kumpke, and Natt McDougall, Portland.

The new regime certainly has made many improvements, and many golfers have expressed enthusiastic appreciation of the playing conditions. A ranger, now patrols the course, speeding up the play considerably. So don't be offended if he asks you to please speed up your game or to step aside and let the following match go through. Also he might ask a twosome to join another twosome, as a foresome will play just as fast and have an enjoyable round. Jimmy Glendye, who has handled our golf tournaments in this capacity, is the new ranger.

Following the announcement that we have installed a handicap system, with Ernie Lafleur in charge, there has been much talk about local tournaments. For the Ladies: a Scotch mix, foursome will be started Sunday, December 9. We have around 20 teams that should play in this event. Hostesses at the leading hotels will be given information about this event.

Man Guest at
F. C. Finch Home

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Landstreet and daughter Jane of Memphis, Tenn., will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Finch at their home, 342 Via del Sol, over the week end. Mr. Landstreet is the international president of the Hotel Greeters of America and is on a western tour speaking before the eight Hotel Greeter Chapters in California and several in Oregon and Washington.

Tuesday evening of this week he spoke before the Long Beach Hotel association of which Mr. Finch is president, and the Long Beach Charter 65 of the Greeters. The Landstreets have anticipated a visit to Palm Springs for many years as they have heard a great deal about it in operating their King Cotton hotel in Memphis, and have referred many people to this Village. Mr. Landstreet will speak before the Arizona Hotel association in Phoenix Monday.

Several members of the local hotel fraternity will meet the Landstreet family at the Finch home Saturday evening.

Cathedral City Home
Sold to Cleveland

Jennie Allesandro of Cleveland, Ohio, has purchased, through the Desert Realty company of Cathedral City, the property there known as Casa Reposa. Alf Swane was the seller and the consideration is reported to have been $14,175.

Pvt. Gilbert Smith, Jr., has returned to Fort Lewis, Washington after spending 20 days with his folks here. He graduated from the local high school in 1944, and since has been in the army.

The divine ruling gives prudence and energy; it banishes forever all envy, rivalry, evil speaking and acting; the acting; and mortal mind, thus purged, obtains peace and power outside of itself.—Mary Baker Eddy.

the course, says the new greens No. 5 and No. 6 and No. 9 will be open for play this coming week... John and his crew have spent a very busy summer to provide for the greater pleasure of golfers of Palm Springs, as indicated by the condition of the course... Pat Martin is serving again as starter at number one tee... Frank "Barney" Fikes is in charge of the golf shop, and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Jackson are in the club's business office.

Best scores of season: Carl Haymond, 68; B. J. Bridgeford, 68; E. A. Lafleur, 72; B. F. Shearer, 75; Dr. B. Kavanaugh, 75; C. A. Strumsky, 76; Jim McAlister, 77; J. E. French, 78; W. B. Colburn, 82; W. A. Pries, 85.

Here's a reminder on what to concentrate on when the shots are straying: Check your grip and see that both palms of the hands are facing each other. Check your stance and see that it is parallel to where you are hitting. Then think only of "your hands," not the clubhead. If you know where your hands are during your swing, the clubhead will go in the same path your hands travel. Forget everything, except your hands, and start them straight back from the ball, slow and low, then up high. Reverse the hands to the downswing. As you come in contact with the ball be sure your right shoulder comes under, then continue to make your hands go straight out to the hole, finishing well up in the air with "your hands." Do not fight or "concentrate" on the clubhead. Move YOUR HANDS.

$24,000 Monthly
Going to County
In Age Benefits

Over $24,200 monthly is going to residents of Riverside county in Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits, according to statistics released today by J. H. Johnson, manager of the San Bernardino Field Office of the Social Security board. These benefits are of several types, Johnson said, and are payable not only to retired workers at 65 or older, but also to survivors of deceased workers of any age.

Benefits are of three general types, Mr. Johnson explained, in giving a breakdown of figures and kinds of benefits being paid to local residents. First, monthly old-age benefits to workers 65 or older were paid to 600 persons in Riverside county during the quarter ending September 30th. These monthly payments amounted to $14,149.57. Wives of such workers were paid $2,164.39 monthly in benefits also available to them at the age of 65.

Salazar Bound

Palm Springs High School Smoke Signal

Dr. Osgood Hardy Speaker at Public Forum Gathering

By DICK CHARLSTON
Dr. Osgood Hardy, author, lecturer and traveler, conducted the forum meeting which was held in the Frances S. Stevens school auditorium last night at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Hardy's subject was "The New Pan Americanism." His lecture was a third in the series of meetings directed to the theme, "America Looks Ahead."

Dr. Hardy, a specialist in Latin American problems, has degrees from Pomona college, Yale university, and the University of California. Dr. Hardy's last position was in Ciudad Trujillo in the Dominican Republic. He was in charge of the cultural relations work of the embassy and also served as administrative officer.

Dr. E. E. Oertel, who is serving as moderator for the forum programs, said that interest in Palm Springs forum meetings has reached a greater height than at any other previous time.

Also on the program was a musical offering by a vocal trio composed of Palm Springs high school girls from Miss Ashcroft's music department. The girls who made up the trio were Marilyn Crockett, Sherrie Mashburn, Vivian Gaudello, "My Hero" from the Chocolate Soldier and "He Shall Feed His Flock" by Handel were the numbers sung by the trio. Marilyn Crockett sang the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria." Miss Ashcroft accompanied the girls at the piano.

According to Miss Ashcroft, this is the first year that Palm Springs high has given a musical at any of the forum meetings. This contribution, it is hoped, will add to the growing interest in the forum meetings.

Francis Ulmer Joins H.S. Staff As Librarian

Mrs. M. Peterson, high school librarian, resigned Wednesday, November 21, to accompany her husband, who has been transferred to Fort Lewis, Washington, from Torrey General Hospital.

Francis C. Ulmer, who taught the 5th and 6th grades at the Frances S. Stevens school from 1940 to 1942, has taken Mrs. Peterson's place.

Mr. Ulmer was recently discharged from the navy and is going to live in Palm Springs. He enlisted in the navy in 1942 and was promoted to the rank of ensign.

Watch Your Step Is Warning With Check Up Begun

By HERB MENNELL
You better watch your step, folks. This is a bit of friendly advice extended from Dr. Oertel to the student body.

Mr. Greely and his staff of three council members, John Wilson, Joe Brummitt and John Klug are canvassing the school grounds and rooms during activity period, and if you are late it's a third of a demerit for you. If, by any chance, you try to skip the period you will find yourself with one or more demerits. As a safeguard, the number of students in each room are counted and the total is compared with the daily attendance.

The activity period has been placed in the school schedule this year to offer extended time for students to be in sponsored clubs or activities. The attendance is being checked so all students will be in a sponsored program as the activity period is not a play period.

The Teacher of the Week

The teacher of this week was born in Bozeman, Montana. She went to Los Angeles high school and studied manual arts.

June 1945 she graduated from George Pepperdine college in Los Angeles. This teacher majored in home economics. She is the head of the cafeteria and is the home economics teacher at Palm Springs, her first year of teaching.

Her hobbies are crocheting, knitting, and collecting perfume. She likes to sew and ride the roller coaster. Do you know her? Yes, it is Miss Lois Hutchinson.

GAZOOZIT

By CHERIE

The fearless freshman's friend with fact and fiction about the fun and frivolities of the week end. (I know what it smells like but Algae said I should write an introduction, so there it is—just as clever as the senior assembly is going to be. (Joke!)

We had a big pep rally Wednesday night (courtesy Safeway). Speeches were given by Brummitt, St. George, Moseley, Peterson, Wills, and "Great Scott" Thompson, after which Trudy (unknown to her), had a party welcoming those shipshape sea salts, J. B. Fern, and Bob Lennan. Trudy wasn't there, J. B. wasn't there, Fern wasn't there, and neither was Bob.

Thursday was the day of the game and although we lost 12-6 the team put a swell fight. (That sounded corny, but I mean it). Thursday night Trudy was supposed to have another party it turned out to be at Smitty's. Seen thereabouts were Smitty and Norma (natch). Klug came a stag but went out with C. J. "Strong Man" Oakman also came stag but was seen later with Jeanette. McKinney ditto and with Bonnie Sue. Also seen were Peterson and B. Emigh, Joy and Jones, Bob Landry and Corman and various other people. Pounding of the wall dilled the party spirits a fraction and soon after (I hear) there was an exodus to L. T. Seen there was Trudy, (after 2 parties given by her it was good to see her) with Lennan, and J. B. with Delorse (natch).

Friday night, we Klug and Hook, Bell and Corman, Bill and Imogene, St. George and Burkett, Shirley and yours truly, were foxed into believing there was a big weinle bake at the Dunes, (curse Candy!) At one o'clock we discover the party was at Wm. Jarvis Earl's, where he told Marty, Flay, Dut, Doris and Humphreys (alumni) were kicking the gong around. Also Jeannette, Wogburg, Croshier, Candy, Julie, Betty Ann and some friends of Croshier's had their weinle bake at the "Port Club" and were later seen at Jarvis.

Saturday Jarvis had another one of his parties, among the Beverly Hills crowd were seen Burkett and Bob Whaley, Julie and Bill Smith, and Hook and Jarvis. (Theoretically, of course). B. Emigh and Joy came stag. Candy (curse her) was with "Mac", Klug and C. J. in the car NASTY! Babs and Benson, Lee Gilbert, Marty, Flay, Dick Hise, Helene Hanbury, Dut, etc., were there, and 1423.843 (that I could count) were there, all from Beverly Hills that nobody seemed to know but Jarvis. Sally was with Oakman (?), Wolfe and Archer, J. B. and some other than the old salt Wendel Moody Delano were also honored guests. No casualties except that Jarvis had a bloody lip (?) from an unknown source.

There was nothing spectacular about Sunday night except that it was cold. MY tale is told!

Mighty Seniors Wallop Juniors At Volley Ball

Who will win? Well, in a practice tilt on the courts at noon last Friday, the mighty seniors walloped a hapless junior nine 15 to 6. This game was but a preliminary to the noon volleyball round-robin whose schedule began Tuesday, November 20. Come out and see a rip roaring volleyball contest each noon at 12:40.

Mr. Greely is the sponsor of these noon volleyball activities. Joe Brummitt is acting in his capacity for the student council in charge of the game schedule.

The rules which were previously announced are: 1. Each team will be made up of five boys and four girls. 2. Games will start promptly at 12:40 and stop at 1:00. Any team not ready to play at 12:40 will forfeit the game. 3. No overhand serving will be allowed.

Wood Working Dept. Expands

"Give me land, lots of land." This is the motto of the Wood Working department of Palm Springs High. The material given by Torrey General Hospital is overflowing the shop, and to combat the overflow Mr. Collins, Mr. Weeks, and Mr. Greely worked over the week-ends to build an annex to the shop. The new building is being used to house the surplus materials, aluminum, brass, plexiglass, nuts and bolts and various other materials.

24 Girls Initiated Into GAA at Rites on November 21

By CONI TILGHMAN
The Girls' Athletic Association of PSHS initiated 24 girls into the club last Wednesday, November 21. The initiation was carried on throughout the day and was climaxed after school by the play-off between the junior and senior basketball teams, installation of officers, naming of varsity players and last but not least, refreshments.

The requirements of initiation into the G.A.A. were as follows: The girls had to come to school with straight hair, no pins nor ribbons, no make-up, jeans and a man's shirt worn backwards, bow tie, high heels with striped or checked bobby-sox, dark glasses. The girls carried tin cups and begged for pennies to swell the G.A.A. treasury. The girls could not speak to boys all day and those who violated the rules were fed crackers and hard at the meeting after school and had flour sprinkled in their hair.

The junior-senior play-off was won by the seniors 14-3.

The girls who made the varsity team were announced. Those receiving the honor were Delorse Roth, Joanne Hookey, Carol Burkett, Sally Robinson, Mildred Potter, and Julie Martineau. Honorable mention was given to Diane Heller, Mabel Potter and Mary Louise Klug.

The officers of the club were installed with impressive ceremony. Joanne Hookey was installed as president and her assistants are Vice President Delorse Roth, Secretary Sally Robinson, Treasurer Diane Heller, Historian Carol Burkett, Bonnie Sue Taylor, basketball; Julie Martineau, individual sports; and Joanne Wilkes, baseball.

The new members of the G.A.A. are: Claire Jane Lyter, Mary Jo Graefe, Imogene Hudburg, Mercy Rios, Shirley Renville, Maise Rice, Marilyn Ellsworth, Lane Archer, Marlene Whitley, Marlene Hudburg, Mary Louise Klug, Connie Nash, Donella Knupp, Vicki Matloff, Betty Wright, Dagne Nordholm, Ann Oliver, Barbara Jones, Mabel Potter, Dixie Smith, Adele Woods, Marilyn Sorum, Sandra Veano and Nancy Nye.

The initiation came to a grand end with the serving of cider and doughnuts.

Boom Days Hit Cafeteria; Meals To Students Grow

By LEE COX
Boom days are not over, at least not at PSHS cafeteria. With the arrival of new students an amazing number are eating their lunches at the cafeteria.

Dr. Oertel said that the cafeteria was minus several modern features but that those deficiencies would be remedied soon. Action has already been taken to secure these much-needed devices. On the way and expected before the first of the year is a new automatic dishwasher and mixer.

The dishwasher is a much needed factor since the cafeteria is short of help and time. The dishwasher is expected to save work and time in one stroke. Washing 1200 dishes and sterilizing them the washer will undoubtedly serve its purpose.

The mixer will contain 12 quarts and will have several features including a grinding attachment.

Subscription List to Chia to Close On December 14

Well gang, you have only until December 14 to buy your subscription of the 1946 edition of the Chia.

This coming year's Chia is slated to be a dilly. With gobs and gobs of pictures, jokes, familiar scenes around the campus, this Chia can't miss. The Chia staff is working themselves to a frazzle to try and please you kids.

The best way to get your Chia is to sneak up on your class representative, money in hand, and yell "I want a Chia." Of course, your representative is liable to think something is wrong with you, but at least you're sure he'll hear you.

Anyhow, gang, make sure that by hook or crook, you don't forget to buy your Chia until the spring. The reason for selling Chia subscriptions now is this—last year too many Chias were printed before it was definitely known how many students wanted them, and as a result this surplus of Chias caused a large deficit in the school treasury. Well, this year we don't want anything like that to happen, so we're asking you all to buy now (on or before December 14) so that we'll know just how many Chias are wanted, get the idea? This year your Chia will cost you $3.00 without a student body card and $2.50 with your student body card. So hurry! hurry! before it's too late, pay for your Chia now!

The Daylights

pacemakers for trains to come

Every day Southern Pacific's luxurious streamlined Daylights join San Francisco with Los Angeles in a glorious daylight trip. One Daylight streaks along the California coast, over the Santa Lucia Mountains and along the blue Pacific Ocean shore for more than a hundred miles. Another Daylight travels over the rugged Tehachapi Mountains and through the great San Joaquin Valley.

The Daylights are among the most popular trains in America and the most beautiful trains in the world.

Aboard these luxurious red and orange streamliners you enjoy enormous "showcase" windows five feet wide, soft foam rubber seats, fluorescent lighting, a low-voiced public address system to announce station stops and points of interest, baggage elevators, complete air-conditioning, smooth gliding motion thanks to ingenious tight-lock couplings between the cars.

Modern ideas such as these, tested in years of daily service on Southern Pacific's Daylights, the Lark, the City of San Francisco and the Sunbeams, gave us a head start in designing the trains to come.

tomorrow . . . Southern Pacific is planning more streamliners, and will have them on our four major routes as fast as conditions permit. These new trains will be the finest the world has seen. Watch for the new Southern Pacific streamliners. Then it will be more exciting than ever to "try the train."

Western Air crew members, on the ramp, are Pilot Captain Walter Brown, Co-Pilot Norman Edson and Stewardess Mary Holden.

Air Service Between Palm Springs and Los Angeles Running Capacity Each Trip as New Run "Catches On"

Personnel in charge of the new Western Air Lines offices at the Desert Inn and at the Palm Springs airport have been kept active by persons desiring information and passage on the new Palm Springs-Los Angeles air service. With the service in its third week, capacity loads of passengers, air mail and air express are being carried daily.

William H. B. "Bill" Ortwin has been appointed acting city traffic manager with headquarters at the Desert Inn.

Born in Shanghai, China, Ortwin attended Cathedral school there. During his 17 years as a resident of the Orient, he traveled extensively throughout China and Japan.

SEES MANY LANDS

Ortwin was graduated in 1936 from University College, Dundee, (St. Andrews University) in Scotland, as a civil engineer. Following his graduation, he joined a Swedish engineering concern and for the next four years practiced mining engineering in British Guiana. During the course of his work in South America, Ortwin traveled extensively through Brazil, Venezuela, Colombia, and British and French Guiana.

In 1940 Ortwin returned to the United States and became a tooling-liaison engineer with the Douglas Aircraft Company in Santa Monica.

TO AID TRAVELLERS

With Ortwin in Western Air's Desert Inn office will be V. Jean Nobbs, counsellor. Her duties will include giving expert assistance to air travelers in planning itineraries and plane trips.

Miss Nobbs is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hoover, Jr.

Auto-Caravan to Desert; Lectures; Museum Program

Program for the week ending December 8 at the Desert Museum was announced this week by Lloyd M. Smith, director, as follows:

Tomorrow afternoon: Auto-caravan trip to Devil's Cactus Gardens and Giant Sand Dune. Round trip about 30 miles. If you don't have a car, come anyway as there is always extra space. Meet in front of Museum at 12:30; return by 5:00. Little walking.

Tomorrow evening: In the Fiesta House of the Desert Inn at 8:00 p.m. Illustrated talk by Dr. Van Rensselaer of the Santa Barbara Botanic Gardens on "Noted Trees of California."

Wednesday evening: 7:30 p.m., in the Desert Museum. Talk by Professor T. D. A. Cockerell on "The History of Insects." Motion pictures on "The Sahara Desert," and "Australian Animals."

Saturday afternoon: Nature walk to the foot of Dry falls. Round trip about two miles easy walking, no hiking. Meet in front of Museum at 12:30; return by 5:00.

Saturday evening: 8:00 p.m., in Fiesta House of the Desert Inn. Sea, by Professor T. D. A. Cockerell illustrated talk on "The Salton and Mr. Lloyd M. Smith."

The Fiesta House within the Desert Inn's grounds may most easily be reached by the Tahquitz drive gate entrance, which will be marked by a blue lantern on lecture nights.

There is no charge for any Desert Museum activity.

Thanksgiving Holiday Dinners Abound at Desert Inn With Many Villagers, Visitors, Celebrating

The homelike atmosphere of the Desert Inn attracted a number of family groups were Mr. and Mrs. Reese T. Taylor, Frank and Reese H. Taylor, Jr., and Mr. Taylor's mother, Mrs. Waller Taylor, of Los Angeles.

Also driving down for the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Giannini, together with their baby daughter, and Mrs. Giannini's mother, Mrs. A. H. Giannini.

Another happy group were Dr. and Mrs. George Pines and their daughter and son-in-law, Comdr. and Mrs. Ralph Bookman, of Los Angeles.

DOWN FOR HOLIDAY

Earle M. Jorgensen, of Los Angeles, brought his charming twin daughters, Maren and Be-Wayne, and son Earle down for the holiday festivities.

Another family circle included Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Griffith and their son and daughter, Stephen and Gertrude, and Mr. Griffith's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Griffith, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ryan with son and daughter, Robert and Rosemary, drove down from Beverly Hills for Thanksgiving week and had as their guests, Miss M. M. Stnad, also of Beverly Hills,

Wife of Editor Visits Midwest

Mrs. R. F. Graettinger, wife of the editor of The Desert Sun left Tuesday evening on the Santa Fe's Super-Chief for Chicago, to be gone three weeks. In the mid-west, she will visit her father, Dr. F. W. Sells of Osceola, Iowa, and in Chicago will meet the couple's oldest son, Dr. J. S. Graettinger, now at Boston City hospital, who has a brief leave. It is hoped that another son, Robert F., arranger with Jan Savitt's band in New York, will be able to join them in Chicago.

Mr. Graettinger, because of the great activity in Palm Springs at present, was unable to take time off for the trip.

and Miss Jean Manning, of Chicago, Illinois.

Father and son got together for the holiday when T. W. Warner, Jr., came down from Beverly Hills to be with T. W. Warner, Sr., who is registered at the Desert Inn.

HOLIDAY DINNERS

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Naish entertained as their guests at Thanksgiving dinner Mrs. Harold Hurley, Miss Patricia Hurley, Mr. A. P. Heaney, Mrs. P. S. Naish, and Miss Carol Elaine Naish.

Also entertaining at Thanksgiving dinner were Mr. and Mrs. N. U. Carpenter, whose guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ireland of Santa Barbara; Mrs. Pat Allen, of Los Angeles; and Mr. and Mrs. Natt McDougall, and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kump, of Palm Springs.

A most welcome guest at the Desert Inn on Thanksgiving day was Mr. Earl Gibbs, who dined with a party of 10, including family and friends. In uniform or "civies," Commander of just plain "Earl," he looked mighty good to us.

ENJOYS VILLAGE

With the dining capacity of the Inn taxed to the limit by town-folk and houseguests, no one could have enjoyed the friendly atmosphere more thoroughly and felt more deeply the spirit of "Thanksgiving" than did Miss Reatha Parrot, of the Philippines. Miss Parrot was head of the English department in the University of the Philippines, when she was captured by the Japanese. After spending 37 months at Santos Tomas, Miss Parrot was rescued February 3, 1945, and returned to the United States May 3, 1945. Dining with Miss Parrot was Mrs. H. L. Richards of Covina, California.

December 10 Deadline for Gifts To the Yanks Who Gave; Local Legion Post Sounds Appeal for Action

Owen Coffman Post, No. 519, hopes to contribute more than its quota of 110 wrapped Christmas packages to the nation-wide holiday drive sponsored by the American Legion for 100,000 gift packages for the wounded and sick World War II veterans, who will be confined to hospitals this Christmas.

Mrs. James Fouch and Mrs. Earl Coffman, co-chairmen for the local post, request all gifts be dropped and delivered to the Dugout as soon as possible, but not later than December 10, as the boxes must be sorted and segregated before going to Riverside for distribution in the hospitals there. Each donor should attach a card to his gift giving his name and address.

LET'S NOT FORGET

Any five articles on the following list of suggested gifts will make a real Merry Christmas package for a hospitalized veteran—the cost is left to the discretion of the donor.

"Let's not forget to give to the Yanks who gave," Commander Harold Lienau of the Post said.

For women: books, pocket editions, stationery and playing cards (new), fancy letter paper, toiletries—hair combs and brushes, nice soaps, dusting and face powders, cologne, lipsticks, rouge, deodorants, good sun glasses, cleansing tissues, nail polish, polish remover, manicure sets, compacts and permanent wave sets, pancake make-up, bath towels, wash cloths; notions: bobby pins, hair pins, hair nets, khaki zippers, clothes pins, skirt hangers, elastic by the yard, safety pins, celophane bags, yarn and sewing equipment; things to wear: scarfs, chamois gloves, bandanas, bed sox, nice hankies, bedroom slippers.

SUGGEST GIFTS

For men: Books, pocket editions, stationery and playing cards; toiletries: good quality razor blades, toilet kits, hair conditioners, lotions, pocket combs, shaving soaps, tooth paste, soaps, cleansing tissues, bath towels; things to wear: sleeveless sweaters, T-shirts, nice handkerchiefs, billfolds, good quality socks, bedroom slippers, neckties, civilian belts, pocket knives; for the smoker: pipes, pipe cleaners, tobacco, lighters, cigarettes, cigars, cases, pouches. No matches.

Doing the Village

with
Moya Henderson

The holiday season is upon us, by the looks of the downtown stores. It hardly gives one time to make soup from the carcass of the Thanksgiving bird before dashing madly out to shop or purchase Christmas cards.

From the looks of the local crowds visiting the local restaurants, it would seem that many tire of turkey at home after a few days.

One happy reunion of old friends we spotted at the Chi Chi were the Fred Ingrams and the Jerry Schills, who were enjoying music by Charel in the Blue Room. Jerry says he'll be out of that uniform as soon as he can find a suit of civilian clothes to fit. Both Margaret and Jerry were active in Palm Springs doin's before the war, and Jerry was connected with the Bank of America (that building hidden by boards on the main street). Others enjoying the cuisine were Mr. and Mrs. Al Stuebing, Village enthusiast from San Fernando Valley; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton of San Marino, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. A. Peake, well-known Villagers. Big Jack beaming at friends, he has joined the ranks of the newlyweds. Mrs. Lasley is the former Mrs. Oikors of North Carolina.

HOSPITAL CHATTER

It wouldn't be a complete column without a list of new additions and of friends visiting the hospitals for various other reasons. Herbert Sampson couldn't quite make Mr. and Mrs. Lauritz Hansen's dinner party for the Steve Vidosses Saturday night. You see he had a son up at the Riverside hospital who wanted very much to see his Daddy. Ruth and Jr. are doing very fine, thank you, and will join Herb and big sister in Palm Springs soon. Doing time at the same institution is Billie Mosely, well-known Los Compadres member, who underwent an operation on Tuesday of this week and is well on the way to being back in the saddle again. Herbert Mennell of Fun in the Sun Candies, sent Mrs. Mosely a box of her favorite confections, so watch that waistline, Billie.

Old-timers in town to stay, they hope, are Jimmy Rector and Phin Prouty. Seems with the housing shortage, they're having quite a time of finding accommodations for their families and can't see this living alone and liking it business.

Down at the La Quinta Desert club we spotted a table of Villagers really enjoying themselves as who wouldn't at the Desert club. Gathered 'round the board were Muriel Fulton, Mrs. Upham Bigelow, Dudley Bigelow, Mrs. Flo MacTaig, Mr. and Mrs. Thayer and Mr. Freeman.

BOOSTER HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Spencer were guests of the Earl Coffmans over the Thanksgiving holiday. It's always nice to see Lynn (Cholly Angeleno of the Los Angeles Examiner) in town as he is one of our greatest boosters.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pryor, of Escondido, celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary last Wednesday. They have been winter guests at Sunshine court for the past eleven years.

Hostesses at a very lovely tea last Tuesday were Mrs. Gordon Nicholson and Mrs. Guy Pinney at the home of Mrs. Nicholson. Mrs. William Lippman was completely surrounded by friends inquiring about her taped-up ankle, which she laughingly told us she sprained falling into the gutter, but this all happened coming from City Council meeting Wednesday and slipping on the curb while entering the car. Effie Banks was walking around like new. Mrs. Henry Reid recounted how son Harry had no less than three blowouts returning to his base in Texas last Friday and finally put the car on the train and took to the air. Margaret Cree back in town and settled in her new home. Hostess Vera had reason to be celebrating, son Gordon is now Corporal Gordon Nicholson and may be home in January.

In conclusion, don't forget to do your Christmas shopping early or are we a bit tardy with the good advice?

Delightful Tea Features Week at Nicholson Home

One of the loveliest parties of the season was the tea given by Mrs. Gordon Nicholson and Mrs. Guy Pinney at the home of Mrs. Nicholson last Tuesday afternoon. Sixty guests gathered in the spacious living room between the hours of three and five.

Mesdames Frank Cutler, William Lippman, Lauritz Hansen and Charles Henderson poured at the tea table beautifully appointed with silver service and crystal bowls of Cecil Bruner rose buds.

Assisting the hostess were Mesdames Merrill Crockett, Donald Lockett and Henry Lockwood, the latter of Hollywood.

Anniversaries Observed at Colonial House

Dr. M. M. Bushan and Mrs. Bushan celebrated their 18th anniversary Tuesday evening in the dining room of the Colonial House. Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Rubinger, of Warner Brothers, was at their table toasting the happily married couple in vintage champagne. The doctor is a prominent eye specialist in Beverly Hills and the couple are parents of three children.

Seated at an adjoining table were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Broidy who only 24 hours earlier had celebrated their 15th year of marriage. They also are parents of three children. Mr. Broidy is the newly elected president of Monogram Pictures. Guests of this couple and also staying at the Colonial House was Herman Rifkin, motion picture house magnate of Boston and vice president of Monogram, and Mrs. L. Griffin of Beverly Hills.

Legion Auxiliary Dance To Attract Large Gathering

An evening of fun and entertainment is anticipated by many Villagers and winter residents when they join with members of Owen Coffman Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, at Rogers' ranch, Friday, December 7, for the Auxiliary dance.

Clyde Smith and his Smoky Mountain Wranglers will furnish the music. All of the favorites, both modern and old-time music, will be played by this orchestra.

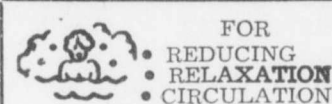

SPECIAL FEATURE

A special feature of the evening will be the dance exhibition staged by a group from the Los Compadres club, who will be attired in clever old fashioned costumes, with hoop skirts and bustles, and the men in western outfits.

Members of this popular group of square dancers are: Ann Purnell, Shirley Foldes, Frances Watkins, Jane Neel, Elmo Purnell, Hutch Moseley, Carl Watkins, and Kenny Paul. Harry Kester will be the caller.

ON EXHIBITION

The award of the Auxiliary Hope Chest as a prize at the dance, will be the highlight of the evening. This beautiful Lane cedar chest, containing an all-wool blanket and many other attractive articles, has been on display at Bullock's and Desmond's the past two weeks, and will be seen at Lykken's this coming week. The proceeds from the sale of dance tickets will be used by the local Auxiliary unit for veterans' welfare work and general expenses. Committee members in charge are Mrs. Harold Lienau, Mrs. Jay Morrison, Mrs. Stuart Allen, and Mrs. Allen Davis.

Democratic Leader Guest at La Paz Ranch

Sunday night's Ranch Supper party at the La Paz Guest Ranch was one of the most festive occasions in the Village that evening, with important out-of-town and Palm Springs residents attending. Seated at one of the long tables, where fried chicken and all the trimmings were served family style, were Edward Flynn, national democratic leader, who is vacationing at the popular ranch with his family and friends. The Flynn's, whose young daughter Sheila accompanied them here from New York City for the Thanksgiving holiday and a ten day stay also were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. M. Goldwater of that city.

The eastern group were especially enthusiastic about the western riding and gymkhanas held about the Village during their stay. Ten-year-old Sheila, entered two gymkhanas and took a blue ribbon home with her when she and the group left today. Although she is an accomplished little rider on the English saddle, this was her first time to ride with real cowboys and their western gear. The Flynn's have visited in Palm Springs several times, and one season remained through the entire winter here. Bing Crosby recently bought Flynn's tremendous ranch in Nevada, where he is spending so much time at present.

Mr. Flynn, who has played such an active part in the Democratic elections, now is back at his law practice in New York, but probably will lend more aid when the national elections come up in the next few years.

Among the Villagers enjoying the Ranch Supper Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Flavin with their daughter, Gloria, who is leading Palm Springs in the Queen contest in the Victory Bond campaign, and their two young sons. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hoover entertained Mrs. Coop of Santa Barbara who was their house guest for several days. Also in the party were their two daughters, Jean Nobbs and Dulcy Jane Hoover. Miss Nobbs until recently was chief instructor for office personnel of T. W. A., and now is with the Palm Springs branch of Western Air Lines.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fouch, wearing their smart looking cowboy ensembles, were dinner hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil King of Long Beach, who were their week-end house guests. Ruth Sougey, manager of the ranch, greeted guests wearing a beautifully made cocoa brown suede skirt and bright yellow satin shirt of western design.

Mr. and Mrs. Zachary Scott (he was the glamour boy lead in "Mildred Pierce" which played here last week) and their young daughter, Waverly, vacationed at La Paz most of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Breckenridge returned to Los Angeles

Dr. Chan To Speak Monday at Woman's Club Gathering

One of the most interesting meetings to be scheduled by the Palm Springs Woman's club is the coming lectures Monday, December 3, by Dr. Chan, professor of Asiatic studies at the University of Southern California.

Dr. Chan, formerly dean of education at the University of Sukin Chu in Soochow, China and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, will speak on the problems of the East and the Orient, the very problems and questions which are uppermost in the minds of everyone today.

Under the chairmanship of Holly Lash Visel, the programs of the year have been some of the most interesting and pertinent available to Villagers. Guests may be admitted with guest card or fee of one dollar and twenty cents.

Barney Ostrow Honor Guest at Dual Celebration

Barney Ostrow celebrated both his birthday and Thanksgiving in a dual event given in his honor at the Colonial House last Thursday, November 22. Guests present at the festive board and the birthday party were his wife and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Davis, Mr. and Mrs. David Roth, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Guyer and Frank Hertzog and his fiancée, Cecil Jacobson of Los Angeles. The climax of the evening was Mr. Ostrow's birthday cake which was shared by those present.

A bricklayer working on the top of a high building accidentally knocked a brick over with his foot, which unfortunately landed on the head of a Negro who was passing by.

"Be careful, mate," the darkie shouted, "you made me bite my tongue."

this week following a two week stay at the exclusive guest ranch. Lt. Comdr. DeGrange chose the hot sunshine by the pool this week for a rest from his submarine duty, which took him to many war zones in the past few years. Mrs. DeGrange joined her husband in the brief holiday before they leave for New York and his transfer to the Panama zone. He being a Naval Academy man, will remain in the service, as his wife now can accompany him to foreign stations.

Arriving home today from Chicago are Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sachs, who are to call La Paz home for the next two months.

Coutts Gallery Proving Mecca for Art Lovers Here

With an exclusive exhibit of the Moorish paintings of the late Gordon Coutts and a separate exhibition of invitational and student works, the recent opening of the Coutts art gallery on Patencio road proved to be a highly successful affair.

The current exhibition will continue until December 11, it is stated by Jeanne Coutts-Knight, local artist and instructor, who is presenting the exhibitions. It is planned to have the showings continue throughout the season. At the end of the present exhibition the desert scenes of Mr. Coutts will be featured in addition to the separate showings of invitational and student work.

MANY EXHIBIT WORK

Among those showing in the invitational exhibit at present are Axel Linus, Agnes Pelton, Hubert Buel, Kurt Rineman, Paul Grimm, Burt Proctor, Margaret Hart, Ben Carre, Michael Knudson, Lily Converse, Hazel Makinley, William Hager, Jimmy Wolseth, Alvin Rishel, Capt. H. A. Harris, Mrs. D. Theobald, Ruth Rishel, Ruth E. Groth, Billie Williams, Joseph Huebl, Charles Small, J. Peters, Edwin Woo, Alice Robare and Tommy Mann.

An exhibition of sculpture by

Mrs. Julie Manierre-Mann is also being shown. Outstanding of the Gordon Coutts paintings shown are "Hamaichi Dance", "The Beggar", "Crossing the Sahara", "The Blind Beggar" and "The Snake Charmer". These paintings of Moorish scenes and life have proved to be the best of his many triumphs and evidence the deep and sincere study he gave to Moorish life.

MANY ATTEND

Among those who attended the opening, in addition to the artists exhibiting, were Marie Ropp and party, Mr. and Mrs. John Dekker, Mrs. J. Carol Naish and daughter, Elaine, Helen Glover, Mrs. McFarlane, Mrs. Abowitz and Mrs. Paula. Tea was poured at this event by Mrs. Knight, assisted by her sister, Mary Gordon Coutts, and Dorothy Huebl, Christina Lillian and Mrs. H. A. Harris.

Recent visitors at the exhibit include John Kjar, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Price, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Hanson Puttof, Miss Helen Gerry, Dr. J. A. Macartney and party and William Reis, and Count Christian.
